COUNTY SEAT CONTEST.

A Scramble for the Plumb in Crawford County.

Leavenworth Now Has the Seat, But Other Towns are After It.

SALEM, Ind., Nov. 20.—The Crawford county seat contest, taken here from Harrison county upon change of venue, was called yesterday and the jury impaneled. Both sides answered ready, when the petitioners requested to recall their plea and asked a continuance on the ground that the county clerk had failed to bring the records of the election of 1892 as he had promised. The continuance was granted. The clerk is said to have done this to get even with the English faction for his defeat in the late election. The case was continued at the expense of the petitioners. Leavenworth expected this and expected the case to be dismissed and none of their witnesses were present, while 500 of the English witnesses were here. Appellate Judge Theo. F Davis presided. Charles L. Jewett was principal attorney for petitioners. Congressman-elect Robert Tracewell was principal for remonstrance.

The present county seat is at Leavenworth, a town of about 1,000 inhabitants on the bank of the Ohio river and in the southeast corner of the county. The present contest is one of a series of county seat contests which has existed since the county was organized. Indiana was admitted into the union in 1816; two years later Crawford county was organized, and the county seat established at Mount Sterling, near where English now stands, almost in the center of the county and really the only village in the county. But about this time settlements were made on the river at Leavenworth and Fredonia. General Thorn, of Fredonia, built a brick house and presented it to the county. It was accepted in 1821. Leavenworth soon outstripped Fredonia in growth, but did not secure the courthouse till 1843, when the town built a courthouse. Since then Marengo, English and Grantsburg have been trying alternately to secure the prize.

Once Grantsburg, an interior town of about 100 inhabitants, secured seventy-five per cent of the popular vote for the removal, but was defeated when the matter was taken into the courts English then secured the necessary vote, but the fight became so fierce that the commissioners had to be guarded while they counted the signatures to the remonstrances. Leavenworth appealed to the circuit court English asked a change of venue to Harrison county and Leavenworth took change of venue to Washington county.

WHIPPED THE WAHEPES.

German East Africa the Scene of a Battle.

Kuirenga, the Stronghold of the Rebels, Falls and the Germans Rescue 1,500 Women.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—News has been received here of sharp fighting between the Germans and the Warhepe tribe. The governor of German East Africa, Von Schell, telegraphed from Dares Salaam that on October 30 Kuirenga, the capital of the Wahepe territory, was stormed and captured by the Germans. In the engagement, which lasted several hours, Lieutenant Maas and eight Askaris were killed. The losses of the Wahepe were heavy. A large number of cattle, much ivory and guns and rifles lost by the Selwisky expedition, were recovered. The Germans also captured large supplies of powder and rescued 1,500 women and children who were held as prisoners by the Wahepe tribe.

PROPERTY IS INJURED.

Indianapolis Woman Wants Damages From a Neighboring Saloon Keeper.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 20.—The circuit court was crowded yesterday with representative temperance citizens and saloon keepers when the case of Mrs Mary Haggard against John Stehlin was called for trial. Mrs. Haggard is the owner of some fine residence property on College avenue. Stehlin bought a lot adjoining her property and erected a building upon it and later opened a saloon. Mrs. Haggard brought suit for damages, alleging that the opening of the saloon had caused her property to decrease in value. Stehlin defended the suit and Mrs. Haggard was demurred out of court. She took an appeal and the supreme court overruled the lower court, holding that a saloon might be a detriment to other property, and if so proved damages might be recovered for its maintenance. The question now at issue is the actual injury which Mrs. Haggard's property has sustained and the measure of damages to which she is entitled, and, as the case is the first of the kind ever tried in the state, it is creating a great deal of attention.

A large number of College avenue property owners have been called as witnesses by Mrs. Haggard to prove that the saloon is a detriment to her property and a number of saloon keepers have been called by Stehlin to testify that a saloon does not cause adjoining property to decrease in value. The trial will last several days.

Dr. Price's is known everywhere as "the good luck baking powder of the Nineteenth Century."

Foreclosure Suit.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 20.—Papers in the foreclosure suit begun at St. Paul November 17 by George Gould and Russell Sage, trustees for the bondholders, to foreclose the mortgage on the Denver Pacific Railway and Telegraph company, have been filed in the United States court at Denver in order to facilitate court proceedings that may be found necessary in the future. This road is the portion of the Union Pacific system between Denver and Cheyenne.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Miss Frances E. Willard Again Called to the Highest Place.

Miss Jessie Acherman, the Round-the-World Missionary, Made a Member of the Association.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 20.—There was a slightly decreased attendance at the convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union today. Immediately after the devotional exercises, Mrs. Campbell, of Wisconsin, gave notice that at the next annual convention she would move to amend article 4 of the constitution by the substitution of the words "vice president-at-large" after the word "president." After this notice was given Mrs. B. Stuytevant Peel, of California, arose and announced that Miss Jessie Acherman, round-the world missionary of the union, was seated with the California delegation, and Mrs Peel desired that she be given a seat on the platform. Miss Acherman was by vote made a member of the convention and was escorted to the platform. When the escorting party reached the platform Miss Willard took a valise from Miss Acherman's hand and said, holding it up for the inspection of the audience

"This is the bag that traveled 150,000 miles in the last seven years. Those are not the most interesting figures in regard to it. It has contained 20,000 pledges from men and 9,000 membership certificates from women all around the world."

The convention applauded voiceferously and Miss Willard rapped vigorously with her gavel, "not for order," she explained, "but for applause." After this little jollification the reports from the Woman's Temperance Publishing association were called for. The first given was that of Miss Margaret Suddith, managing editor of the Union Signal, the official organ of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, and after she had finished Mrs. Katharine Lente Stevenson reported for "Books and Leaflets." Mrs. Caroline F. Crow next reported, also for the Union Signal.

Hon. Samuel Dickey, of the prohibition party, then spoke briefly and humorously. After Mr. Dickey had concluded Miss Willard said: "A certain custom originated with the first president of this union. It is thought now it is a good custom to drop. The custom has been for the president to don her wraps and sneak down the back stairs and stay out until she's elected. It really looks as though the president was not so sure of re election. So I am not going out." After this little speech Rev. Anna Shaw, of Pennsylvania, rose and said she hoped Susan B. Anthony was present, as she (Miss Anthony) was always compelled to go out during her election. She had always rebelled and Miss Shaw remarked that "Aunt Susan" would be much pleased at this action on Miss Willard's part.

The election preliminaries were then begun by the appointment of tellers by the chair. Each teller represented different sections of the country The election proceeded in a very orderly manner. Just before the tellers began to pass about the audience, Miss Alice Harris took a seat at the piano and began to sing, "Blest Be the Ties," Instantly the convention arose and joined in the singing of the hymn.

The first ballot taken was for president and resulted in the unanimous choice of Miss Frances Willard The president was then presented with two gavels, sent by the Women's Christian Temperance union, of Churchill, N Y., the wood being taken from the house where Miss Willard was born.

She made a brief address of thanks for the continued confidence reposed in her by the union. Miss Willard then nominated Mrs. L. M. N Stevens for vice president at large and she was also unanimously elected to that position.

Then came the election of a recording secretary to fill the place of Mrs Stevens, who had just been elected vice president at large. Of the 390 votes cast Mrs. Katharine Lente Stevenson received 286 and was declared elected. Afterwards her election was made unanimous.

Mrs. Clara Hoffman was unanimously elected assistant recording secretary and she followed with a brief address of thanks for the honor. Next came the election of treasurer and Mrs. Helen M. Barker was promptly re-elected by a rising vote. After a short address by Mrs. Barker the convention took a recess.

Good housewives never disagree as to the superiority of Dr. Price's Baking Powder over every other brand.

Dr. C. B. Stemen, assisted by other physicians, operated upon a young man from Van Wert, at the St. Joseph hospital yesterday afternoon. The physicians removed a tumor weighing several pounds from the shoulder of the patient. Some fifty or sixty medical students and physicians were present to witness the operation, which was a very delicate one. Today the young man is resting quite easily and will likely recover. Physicians were from Lafayette to witness the

GROWING WEAKER.

Old Age and Consequent Debility Attacks Bismarck.

He Has Braved Life's Tempests for Many Years, But His Race is Nearly Run.

LONDON, Nov, 20.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes an interview this afternoon which one of its correspondents has had with Count Herbert Bismarck, in Berlin. Referring to the health of his father, Prince Bismarck, the count said "You should not forget that my father's age is beyond the allotted time of the Bible. He has weathered many storms, and has had little leisure in life. But his hardest trials have come within the past four years and at a time in life when he should be spared every aggravation or anxiety Add to this his active, ever busy intellect, his deep concern for every important question of the day and more than all his concern for Germany's prosperity, to which he has devoted his life, to say nothing of the deaths of his friends, and I question if any other man has braved life's tempests with better results. But, he is fast getting old. He suffers from no organic disease. He is weakened by time and cannot, even with the greatest precautions, continue much longer We, of course, are very anxious about him and he is scarcely ever out of sight Of necessity we are prepared for God's will."

A TRAMP IN ASTOR'S BED.

He Wandered Into the Mansion and Went to Sleep.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—A breathless servant from the residence of Mrs. William Astor, at Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue, rushed into the West Thirtieth street station just before midnight Saturday night He asked for an officer to hurry to the Astor mansion at all speed.

A policeman hustled along, wondering what was up. When he reached the house he found the servants all gathered in the hallway, highly excited

"He's on the fourth floor,' they cried, in awed voices.

"What is he—a burglar?' the policeman asked, as he reached for his revolver.

"Oh, he's awful," was the only reply he could get from the women.

The policeman went up to the fourth floor and there, in one of the gorgeous bedrooms, he found a scraggy bearded man in bed. He was fast asleep

The fellow was aroused and compelled to dress. He was a typical tramp of the "Weary Waggles" kind. He was locked up. It is not known how he got into the house.

GEORGE SWERINGER.

He Turns Out to be a Murderer of Long Standing.

BUCHANAN, Mich., Nov. 20.—A dispatch received by a deputy sheriff here from North Dakota states that George Sweringer, who is under arrest for committing a deadly assault upon his father in-law, August Vetter, is also wanted in North Dakota for a murder committed there six years ago. He will probably be surrendered to the Dakota authorities and stand a chance of suffering the death penalty.

BLOODY DEEDS

Done by the Yaqui Indians in Old Mexico.

URES, State of Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 20.—A courier from the town of Soyoha in the Yaqui valley, southwest of here, has arrived, bringing information of daring depredations by a band of Yaqui Indians. The ranch of Pedro Hernandez was visited by a band of ten warriors and three women and two belonging to the Hernandez household were killed in cold blood. Hernandez happened to be in Soyoha at the time of the raid. The Indians, after committing the murders, burned the ranch buildings and drove off several hundred head of cattle to the mountains.

SKINNED THE COMPANY.

H. M. Howard Defrauds the Fidelity Mutual Life.

Issues a $10,000 Policy to B. F. Pitsel and by Fraudulent Representation of Death Gets the Money.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 20.—Lawyer Albert W. Wishard was instructed by telegraph from Philadelphia today to file suits for the recovery of the money obtained by H. M Howard, now under arrest at Boston, part of which is on deposit in a bank in this city. The title of the complaint filed is, the Fidelity Mutual Life association against H. M. Howard alias H M. Holmes alias Herman Mudgett, and Georgiana Howard. The plaintiff alleges that he is engaged in the business of life insurance and that he issued a policy on the life of one B F. Pitsel for $10,000, that by a mistake on the part of the plaintiff and deceptions and fraudulent representation on the part of the defendant, the said Howard received the sum of $10,000, that afterward the plaintiff discovered that B. F. Pitsel was still alive, that the proofs of the claim were spurious and fraudulent and made for the express purpose of cheating the plaintiff out of the insurance money, that the defendant fled the country, turning over and paying to his co-defendant, Georgiana Howard, a large portion of the $10,000, which the defendant deposited in the bank in this city. Affidavit for a writ of attachment is also filed.

BRIDGE BROKE DOWN

And the Train Went to the Bottom of the Creek.

Five Miners, Who Were Returning From Their Work, Crushed in the Wreck.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 20.—It has been definitely learned that there were five people killed in the wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad at Larimer station, twenty miles east of here, last night The names are: Geo Rice, August Thone and his son, Fred Thone, and two Italians whose names are not known, as they are known by numbers At noon the remains of Fred Thone had been taken out All were miners employed by the Westmoreland coal company.

The train wrecked consisted of sixteen carloads of coal and was just pulling out from the New Larimer mines, and on board were a number of miners As it was crossing over a trestle near Larimer station the axle on the second car broke down, the balance of the cars piling up in a heap, which resulted in the breaking of the trestle, and the whole mass of cars and human beings went down with a crash into the creek below. The miners on the train at the time were returning from work.

TWO KILLED, FOUR HURT

Fatal Accident on the Streets of Philadelphia.

A Passenger Train Dashes Into a Carriage, Killing or Maiming the Occupants.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn, Nov. 20.—Two persons were instantly killed, one fatally and four seriously injured by a wreck on the Reading railroad at the Washington lane crossing about 11 o'clock this morning. The killed are:

John Meehan, aged seventy-six years, of Pulpeper, a suburb of this city.

Patrick Lacey, flagman, aged sixty years, who resides on Washington lane, near the crossing.

Mrs. Meegan, aged sixty five years, was injured internally and had her skull fractured. She cannot recover.

Mrs. Smith, aged forty years, the fourth occupant of the carriage, was injured internally, but will probably recover.

Just how the accident occured will probably remain a mystery as the flagman, who probably held the key to the situation, is dead. The carriage containg the four occupants was going north on Washington Lane and had reached the center of the track before the driver discovered that the train, which leaves this city at 10 o'clock, was almost upon them. The driver struck the horses with the whip which caused them to become frightened and rear. An instant later they were struck by the heavy engine and thrown nearly fifty yards. Meehan and Lacey were dead when they were picked up. Mrs Smith and Mrs. Meehan were taken to the Germantown hospital. One of the horses was almost ground to pieces and the wagon totally demolished.

The Chief Chemist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, as head of the World's Fair Jury, conferred the highest award on Dr. Price's Baking Powder.

SALOONKEEPERS SEEK

A Favor at the Hands of the Indiana Legislature.

Will Ask for an Amendment to the Liquor Law, Allowing Them to Keep Open Until Midnight.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 20.—The Indiana saloonkeepers' organization has begun a vigorous campaign for an amendment to the liquor law which will enable them to keep their places open until midnight instead of 11 o'clock, as at present, and a systematic effort is being made in all counties to secure pledges from the newly elected members of the next legislature to that end. The saloonkeepers say the republicans, out of deference to them, refrained from putting a temperance plank in the state platform, and thus brought to the support of the party a large part of the liquor element which had not voted with it before They claim that the party is under no obligation to the temperance element, and the saloonkeepers' influence can be permanently secured if the legislature will make the desired amendment. On the other hand, the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance union will ask for a bill requiring that the injurious effects of alcohols shall be taught in the public schools and that there shall be no legislation granting any new privileges to the saloon element

GOT OFF EASY.

William Hilker Fined $10 and Costs for Simple Assault.

Three Saloonkeepers Accused of Selling Liquor on Sunday and Two of Them Fined.

This morning at the mayor's court the case of William Helker, charged with a deadly assault upon William Webber, the saloonkeeper, was on trial. Webber, it will be remembered, was hit on the head with an axe handle by Helker, on the evening of election day. The quarrel was over the payment of some drinks and the weapon used by Helker was broken in two Webber was laid up for several days and not expected to live. Helker was released on bail and Attorney A. H Bittinger appeared this morning to defend him. The case was called at 9 o'clock and lasted until 12:30. Attorney Bittinger made a splendid defense for his client, covering every point in the case in a most thorough manner. The testimony of witnesses went to show that Webber had first attacked Helker with the axe handle and had followed him up for thirty or forty feet. Here the men clinched and in the struggle Helker got hold of the bludgeon and whacked the saloonkeeper over the head three or four times. After listening to all the evidence Mayor Oakley fined the defendant $10 and costs for simple assault and battery. Helker may consider himself lucky, as the case appeared at first as though it would go very hard with him.

Yesterday was a tough day on two saloonkeepers charged with violating the Sunday law A day or so ago Louis Schroeder, a teamster, filed an affidavit charging William Henze with having sold beer on Sunday, Oct 7 Upon being examined yesterday afternoon Schroeder testified that he and a man named Dick Rudolph went into Heinze's place and ordered three beers, which they paid for, and after sitting around for awhile, went out. Schroeder claims that the reason he did not file the information sooner was because he was a hard-working man and did not have a chance The evidence of both men, however, seemed to show pretty conclusively that liquor was sold in the saloon on Sunday and Mayor Oakley thereupon fined William the sum of $10 and costs. Heinze appealed the case and the appeal bond was placed at $100 During the trial the attorneys made an effort to find out just why Schroeder was so tardy in having the saloonkeeper arrested, but the witness was non-committal on this point

TOM CLARK FINED.

Information was also filed by the prosecutor against Tom Clark, of 28 Columbia street, for selling liquor on Sunday When Tom learned that there were two witnesses against him, he paid his money and saved both the state and himself further trouble. The price was $19 50.

CONDON DISMISSED

Sunday a policeman saw six men come out of John Condon's saloon, corner of Baker and Calhoun street. The matter was referred to the prosecutor and the men examined. There testimony was of such a nature that it would be difficult to make a case against Condon and so the matter was dropped

SENT OUT OF TOWN.

Thomas H. Boyd, a deaf mute, was locked up by the police last night for drunkenness. This is the third time he has been in the station house on the same charge, and today the fellow was shipped out of town.

John Rable, the son of William Rable, while on his way to school this morning accidently fell on the sidewalk and cut a deep gash in his forehead.

MUNCIE, Ind, Nov. 20.—The democratic committeemen of Muncie met at the court house and by a vote of twenty-three to fourteen decided to choose a man to fill Postmaster Ellis' place by election. The other candidates are Edward Tahey, Ephraim Snell, Eugene Kelly and Harry Crossfield Snell and Tahey lead, with Kelly a good third. McKillip alone objected to the election, which will be held soon

MANY INJURED.

A Sixty-foot Smokestack Falls Upon a Skylight,

Sending a Shower of Broken Glass Upon the People Below—Two Fatally Hurt.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—A sixty foot steel smokestack was torn from the University club building by the wind today, and crashing onto the skylight of the Handy abstract building, on Washington street, drove a shower of two inch glass into the office below, dangerously injuring two men and cutting and bruising almost everyone of the 125 people in the offices The dangerously hurt are:

H. P. Handy, president of the Handy abstract company.

C. O. Bostriot, a clerk.

Others who were seriously injured are:

Ex-United States District Attorney Thomas Milchrist.

Taylor H. Snow, a real estate dealer.

G. A. Tallman, clerk.

J O Connor, clerk.

M. H. Brown, an attorney

It was not thought either Handy's or Bostrict's injuries would prove fatal, although both suffered severely from loss of blood.

The accident occurred just before noon, when every desk in the abstract offices was occupied and while a large number of attorneys and clients were transacting business there. The big skylight, covering a large portion of the building, was protected by a strong and heavy steel netting, and that alone prevented the heavy smoke stack from going through the roof. Had it done so, large loss of life would have resulted, as twenty five or thirty clerks were bunched close together below where it struck. Ex-United States District Attorney Milchrist narrowly escaped death. A large piece of glass struck him on the shoulder, cutting through his clothes and leaving a long, ugly gash. As it struck he leaped to one side just as a piece of the skylight three feet square, dashed down edgewise on the spot where he had stood. H. H. Handy, the millionaire president of the company, was cut in a dozen places. A large fragment of glass grazed his head, tearing a large wound in the side of his face, both hands and arms were cut and his right shoulder was cut to the bone.

The noise of the crashing glass and the cries of the alarmed clerks caused a small panic in the building, the tenants jamming the corridors and stairway in their rush for the street. Several young women clerks and stenographers fainted and were painfully crushed in the crowd, but no one was dangerously hurt. A score of physicians were called to dress the wounds and carriages and ambulances were called out to carry the injured. It was rumored that a portion of the building had collapsed but examination showed that the building was uninjured aside from the breaking of the skylight A portion of the falling smokestack struck the roof of the restaurant of William Boyle, creating a panic among the people at luncheon there, but no one was injured.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Terrible Fate of Farmer McMakin's Four Fine Horses.

The Bright Light of Yesterday Morning Explained—Destructive Fire Three Miles West of Here.

Early yesterday morning the entire western sky was lighted with a bright red light as though by some large fire. Diligent inquiry upon the part of the reporters failed to locate the blaze and not until late last evening was anything definite learned. The fire was one of no little consequence, and the loss will reach a good many hundred dollars.

About 2 o'clock the family of Henry C. McMakin, who is a prosperous farmer living three miles out on the Huntington road, were awakened by a bright light and the terrified neighing of four horses in the barn. Rushing to a window, Mr. McMakin was shocked to see his fine barn wrapped in flames. He rushed out and made a herculean effort to save the horses and some of his farm implements, but he was too late, as the fine structure was doomed The four horses were so frightened that nothing could be done to save them and the poor animals suffered a horrible death

The building was totally destroyed and besides the horses, forty tons of hay, together with buggies, wagons and valuable farm implements were consumed

As to the origin of the fire Mr McMakin is totally ignorant, but thinks tramps might have had something to do with it

Last evening the farmer came to this city to see about his insurance, but was surprised to find that it had expired and that the loss to his property was complete. Mr McMakin is well known over the county and his many friends will be sorry to learn of his misfortune

The loss is estimated to be nearly $3,000.

IT WAS THE CAT

Last evening a lamp left burning in the second hand store of H. Goldstein, on Calhoun street, was upset by a cat and had not passers by broken the window and extinguished the blaze a serious fire would have probably resulted

BADLY BURNED.

The young woman was washing with the hot water pipe near the boiler, when the pipe burst and the scalding fluid was poured over her face and neck. One of her eyes was badly injured Dr. A E Bulson attended.

"AMERICAN GIRLS."

Hugo Thieme Writes About Them in a Paris Paper.

Mr. Hugo Thieme, of this city, who is now in Paris, has the following contribution on "American Girls" in the Paris edition of the New York Herald

"Would you allow me a few lines in your paper to express an opinion on M Bourget's 'American Society?'

"M. Bourget has given some few specimens of society girls, which he calls types, but which are far from it They are occasionally met with, but are not predominant features. Our real society does not exist in Newport nor in New York city only, as he has made the good Parisians believe, nor does it consist in these 'types,' as nearly all French readers imagine now. By portraying a few odd cases of girls, who, according to the language M Bourget has them use, are simply 'guying' him, as we say, he leaves the impression upon the Parisian world that all American society is made up of such curiosities, just as they think that every American in Paris is either from New York, Chicago or Texas M. Bourget was entertained by America's best society, he has not yet penetrated the true, typical home life. He says we have no real home life and homes as the Parisians That is only too true, but we are very thankful that our home is not like that of the Parisians. We have what the word 'home,' German 'heim' implies, which neither the French language nor the people know. An American's pride is in his home and his easy home life. M. Bourget is a deep thinker, and his work very suggestive and extremely interesting, but in his one-sided, narrow picture of American society he is not himself. We hope he will resume his notes on society and give us a broader field to look over.

OUR NEW J. P'S.

M. F. Boben and L. P. Huser Take Their Offices.

Daniel Ryan Retires After Having Served Twenty-eight Years as a Justice of the Peace.

M. F. Boben, one of the newly elected justices of the peace, was sworn into office this morning by County Clerk Harry Metzgar and at once entered upon his duties, his offices being in the rooms formerly used for democratic headquarters in the Foster block. Justice Bohen is a young man who by legal training is finely equipped for the new position which he takes He has been the baliff in the superior court for several years and during that time has been a close student of the law books so that he will be thoroughly familiar with his duties. He will take the dockets of Daniel Ryan, who after twenty eight years' service as justice of the peace in this city, retires to engage in the practice of law.

Mr. Ryan first became a justice of the peace in 1865, and, with the exception of a few years, has held that office ever since In the course of his work he has filed fifty-three court dockets, averaging 400 pages each. He has disposed of from 18,000 to 20,000 cases and has turned more than $10,000 in fines into the school fund. He has married some 300 couples, and has, in company with various other 'squires, held 300 inquests on insane persons. Justice Ryan was admitted to the bar in New Lexington, Perry county, Ohio, in 1862, and in the spring of 1864 was admitted to the Allen county bar. With the exception of Judge Morris, Mr Ryan is the only attorney now practicing who was a member of the bar at that time.

County Clerk Harry Metzgar went to Indianapolis yesterday afternoon for the purpose of looking after the matter of the qualifying of the justices of the peace and will return this evening with the commission of J. P. Huser. It is not known yet whether Mr. Huser will be inducted into office at once or not, or whether he will be compelled to wait until the expiration of Justice Hays' term, which continues for a year. By the action of the county commissioners the number of justices in this township was reduced from six to four. At present there are Justices France, Tancey, Hayes and Wilkinson. Mr. Bohen has taken the dockets of Justice Ryan, and if Justice Wilkinson should retire Mr. Huser even then could not take his office until the expiration of the term of Justice Hays, as that would make five justices in the township.

Valentine Linker, of Madison, Theo. H. Ashley, of Aboite; Michael Tancey, of Wayne, Alexander McDaniel, of Washington, and C. J. Schlatter, of Cedar Creek, qualified as justices of the peace this morning

ECZEMA FROM CHILDHOOD

From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs, and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S.S.S., and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible Eczema was gone, not a sign of it left; my general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease. I have since recommended S.S.S. to a number of friends for skin diseases, and have never yet known a failure to cure.

CHRISTMAS comes on Tuesday this year and it will be here in five weeks from today.

THE city authorities ought to commence a vigorous clean-up policy and put Fort Wayne in a good sanitary condition for the winter that is now almost upon us.

THERE is going to be a political war in Alabama. Kolb, the defeated candidate for governor, has issued a manifesto calling on his supporters to aid him in seizing the executive office.

THERE is already a well defined movement among the friends of Congressman Taylor, of the First Indiana district, to boom him for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in Indiana.

GUY HOWREN, just elected recorder of Union county, this state, was twenty-one years old in April last. His father, Newton Howren, the present incumbent, was prostrated by paralysis some months since, and the son, who had previously acted as deputy, has been in charge of the office to which he has just been elected.

DISASTERS from the use of natural gas as fuel are rapidly increasing in number and severity. They are almost invariably due to bad plumbing. The companies that introduce this subtle and dangerous fluid should be required by ordinance to be responsible for making the proper and safe connections.

EX-CONGRESSMAN HOLMAN says there were just three causes for our late waterloo. They were Cleveland's miserable foreign policy, the hard times and the unpardonable delay of congress in passing a tariff bill. He says the country is bankrupting itself by building enormous war vessels that we have no use for at all. He says the present tariff act will be left undisturbed for many years. The republicans are getting further away every day from extreme protection. He declares that free silver will be the chief issue in 1896. The democratic party dare not do otherwise than declare for the unlimited coinage of the people's money at the present ratio. With that issue only we can win. We need more money in the United States. The amount that is collected for the support of the government is taken from the pockets of all the people and put into the hands of a few thousands. He has come to believe that a service pension offers at least a temporary solution of this difficulty. Certainly every impulse of patriotism urges us to grant a liberal sum—at least $8 to $12 a month—to every soldier and sailor who served the union in the civil war.

The Massacre of Armenia.

If the reports are true of the slaughter of several thousands of Armenians, including helpless women and children, by Ottoman troops, a case for the intervention of the Christian powers in the name of a common humanity would seem to have arisen. The details of wholesale slaughter and violence, which it is claimed have resulted in the total destruction of twenty or thirty villages, are sickening beyond the power of expression, and indicate a reign of violent bigotry that should not be tolerated anywhere within the realm of civilization.

We are aware how delicate a matter it is for governments to interfere in the internal strifes of another, whether the disorder be due to religious bigotry or otherwise, but the wholesale slaughter of innocent and defenseless women and children is a matter that concerns all humanity, and all civilization will be justified in making a protest that must be heeded.

If the Turkish government is either too feeble or too indifferent to prevent outrages of this kind, it is time that it was replaced by a government that can, and will govern. No rash action should be taken based upon insufficient knowledge, but a rigid inquiry into the truth of these reports is certainly demanded, to be followed, if they are found true, by a protest from united Christendom that must be heeded.

Our Commercial Future.

The Paris correspondent of The Engineering and Mining Journal gives the prophecy of a distinguished French economic writer on the commercial future of the United States. The correspondent says:

M. Paul Leroy-Beaulieu, the economist, whose reputation is well known to you, has an article in The Debats this week on the agricultural and commercial situation in your country, in which he predicts a great future for you. He believes that your new departure in tariff legislation is one of the most important commercial movements of the present age. With your great resources, with raw materials free of tax or largely so, with the energy of your merchants and the ingenuity of your constructors and artisans, and with the great capital which you can now command, he believes that the United States will soon be a formidable competitor in foreign markets and must in time become the predominant industrial power. At the same time he believes that your farmers will be led to diversify their products and to improve their methods, which are now certainly not of the best. One thing you must do, and that is to enlarge your merchant marine. It is an old and a sound saying that "no nation ever was or ever can be commercially great which does not carry its own goods in its own bottoms." That M. Leroy-Beaulieu's predictions as to your coming prosperity will be fulfilled I believe and hope.

Something will have to be done with Indian Territory and that right soon. It is coming to be the rendezvous for all the offscouring of the earth. Desperadoes nest in it and issue forth in the nighttime to rob and murder. The Indians under whom the territory is supposed to be take no measures to preserve law and order. Indian Territory is the haunt of outlaws from all sections of the Union. It is a menace and a terror to the whole United States. There are no law and no military or police force to catch the villians who hold up trains at their convenience, riddle them with bullets and carry off the money from passengers and express cars. No wonder the express company whose chief route is through this dark and bloody ground refuses to carry any more valuables over the demon haunted road. That such a spot should exist in the United States is a blot on our nation. The situation is almost serious enough to call for an extra session of congress.

The greatest wedding of the next year or two will be that between New York and Brooklyn, Staten Island and outlying towns will be taken in as members of the family. New York will then be the second largest city on earth, only London being greater. By the time the consolidation is effected the united population of this wonderful city will be not less than 3,000,000. London has been 2,000 years heaping together her population of 4,000,000. New York will have accomplished the same in 300 years. The first settlements were made on Manhattan Island in 1614. By 1914 New York will have 4,000,000 inhabitants.

Now that he has been stripped of his yellow jacket, his white feather and all his offices, Li Hung Chang ought to come to America. He would have plenty of good company in the defeated November candidates.

Physical culture in woman is keeping pace with her intellectual advancement. Nothing contributes better to perfect health than Dr. Price's Baking Powder.

Rev. M. S. Marble leaves this evening for Buffalo, N. Y., as a delegate from the Fort Wayne Methodist Evangelization union, to a meeting of the national union.

PROSTRATED!

A Most Dreaded and Awful Danger.

What Makes So Many People Drop Dead in the Street?

Why are Homes Filled With the Weak and Nervous?

Weak Nerves, Weak Heart and Exhausted Brain!

These Are the Causes and They Must be Overcome.

It is weakness, a sin, a crime to neglect your health. Death has terrors for everyone, but people do not seem to think much about it until they are about to break down. Then anguish fills the soul. Then despair replaces ambition, and weakness and exhaustion take the place of strength.

Have you palpitation, fluttering, and feeling of weakness and uneasiness around the heart, dizziness, faintness and shortness of breath? Then look to your heart! It is dangerously weak! Sometimes there is pain around the heart. With these symptoms there is generally loss of appetite, gas, weakness, anxiety, forebodings, despondency and extreme nervousness. Such a condition is equal to a deadly serpent coiled about you, whose venomous fangs are about to sink into your flesh and draw your life's blood. Read the remarkable experience of Joseph Booth, Esq., the widely known superintendent of Torry's Razor Manufactory, Worcester, Mass:

"Some time ago," he says, "I was taken with a terrible dizziness and palpitation of the heart, which so weakened me I could not stand. A terrible burning sensation would be felt over the heart, and at the same time it would palpitate in a dangerous manner.

"I had an all-gone feeling, was terribly weak and despondent, and a horrible foreboding was continually over me. My food distressed me terribly and I had severe pains. I was so weak and sick I thought I should die. I was also troubled greatly with gas.

"After trying several remedies for my sufferings without success, I was convinced that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy was the only medicine that would cure me. I saw that many had been cured of the same complaint by it. I commenced using it, and the result justifies my confidence.

"My troubles have all left me after using this great remedy. My heart disease is cured and I can eat anything without distress. Dizziness no longer troubles me and I am cheerful and bright, with no fits of despondency. In fact I am a new man. I advise everyone to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is a wonderful medicine."

Everybody is unanimous in proclaiming this great remedy, the most wonderful in the world. Why don't you try it? That weak organ will soon give out. Do you want it to? Then take the one sure cure for it, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St, New York city. He has the largest practice in the world and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene's is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

A WAYWARD BOY.

Dying in a Hospital at Dallas, Texas.

The Lad Runs Away From a School in France and is Missing for Three Months.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Edward Webster, the young man who, while attending school in France, led the police of Paris a chase by disappearing from the train between St. Lazare station, in Paris, and Colombes, last January, is the hero of another misadventure. He now lies ill in the Portland hospital, of Dallas, Texas, and his mother, Mrs Theodore Conkling, has gone post haste to his bedside from her home in the Hotel Marlborough. At the time of his French affair the police sought for him for three months, and then decided that a body found in the Seine was that of the young American boy. His mother partly identified the boy. About two months later the boy was found alive. He had become dissatisfied at the school where he was studying. His mother then brought him back to America and he was sent on a visit to Texas as the guest of Colonel Hughes, on a ranch at Childress. The boy, according to his parents, (his mother has married a second time) is worth nearly a half million dollars, the value of the estate left by his father, "Jack" Webster, who was a member of the produce exchange at the time of death. Although only eighteen years old, young Webster weighs 180 pounds and is six feet, two inches in height.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

MATE LEROY FORECASTS A GREAT WINTER FOR FURS.

Many Cloth Wraps Lined With Fur—Shaggy Dress Materials In Favor—Flat Shaped Hats in Vogue—Other Millinery Novelties—Styles For Children.

[Copyright, 1894, by American Press Association.]

I think that this winter will be one of the shaggiest and furriest ones on record, if I can judge by the amount of fur now being put upon garments of every description. Wrappers are being entirely lined with Siberian squirrel, and one was shown me lined with imperial ermine. None of it showed on the outside, except a little turned over point on the skirt and a collar made with points down to the waist. All the rest was a sort of craped satin, which is very beautiful. The color was a hazy pink. There were bands of white guipure around the recamier sleeves. The cost of such a gown must have run into the thousands, and in our steam heated homes must be decidedly uncomfortably warm. But think of the beauty and never mind the comfort.

Some of our most fashionable dressers rather delight in having a plain and quiet though good material for the outside of a garment and have that lined with a magnificent brocade or with some costly fur. I remember seeing the delighted face of one lady who found just what she wanted in a rough cheviot long coat, with nothing to show on the outside but an enormous surplice collar of black bear of the splendor within. The whole coat was lined with chinchilla, which is one of the dearest of furs. I think I can see the superb air of disdainful triumph as she will lay aside that coat, pretending to think far more of the simple outside than of the velvety fur lining and watching out of the corner of her eyes for the swift, comprehensive glance of her dearest friends. That is triumph unmixed, and therefore greater than the taking of a city. Such a triumph leaves no dead, but it does leave its vanquished.

The dress materials of shaggy surface appear to be in great favor just now, and yet we find velour du nord, velutina, heavy woolen crepons and shot crepons, showing two colors or two shades of the same color, are very much in demand for handsome street gowns. There is another very pretty fabric called zibeline, which has a surface like farmer satin and a woolly back like thick canton flannel. This will be used largely for children's cloaks, and also for tea gowns and comfortable house dresses. The English serge for winter has as woolly a surface as it is possible to get, and for hard wear serge is the best fabric ever devised. Cheviots are now on view with rich and warm colors showing in the twills, and these are very handsome. The black cheviots are in great demand, both for dresses, two piece suits and for long cloak coats and Prince Albert suits.

Many of the coats, jackets and wraps are lined with moire. Some of the most dressy have white moire, but such can be worn but a short time; therefore they are rarely used except on such garments as are to be taken off or thrown open at teas, theater or for visiting. Light colored silks and satins are used to line all sorts of outdoor garments, and frequently we see furs with a lining of costly brocaded satin. I remember seeing one golf cape lined with rainbow plush.

For home and grand toilets jet is so lavishly used that sometimes a gown will weigh 30 pounds, a dreadful weight to carry around. Yet there is something in the knowledge that your heavy gown is also a magnificent one that helps very much to bear its weight.

The stock and belt buckles of gold filigree, enamel and paste jewels are all the rage. No lady feels that her wardrobe is quite complete without one or more. These buckles hold the crushed stock collar with its puckered ends standing up like fins on each side of the chin. Some are heart shaped, some like two crescents crossed, others like linked rings, and some and perhaps the most effective are just simply oblong golden slides. The belt buckle can be put to so many uses. It can today hold the feathers on a felt hat, tonight drape up the fluff of tulle and lace on a dancing frock, tomorrow adorn the neck of the wearer or hold a knot of ribbons on her cloak. A handsome gold buckle is really a useful adjunct, and if the fashion has not died out before the holidays it will make a suitable present for all your lady friends and one well appreciated.

Some wise old philosopher in Bible days remarked that of making books there is no end. We might transpose that a little by saying that of making hats there is no end. Just as the fashion writer heaves a sigh of satisfaction and says, "There, I have written everything there is to say about the new hats," lo, she sees a new lot, all different, and each the leader of another branch of the family of headgear, so that she finds her work all to do over again.

Just now the "flat" shape is the leading one. Some of the flats are left au naturel, but the most of them have the brims bent up or down or waved or fluted. The form is varied so as to suit all faces, but in all these the crown is low, but well defined, and the trimming is generally laid low. One seal brown felt had a gathered twist and two or three crushed loops of wide tartan ribbon. This style is intended mostly for growing girls, but is also worn by young ladies for runabouts.

Another striking hat is of black beaver, with a sharply outlined crown about four inches high. The brim is exactly round, but turned up on both sides. There is no trimming around the crown. On the left side are two handsome black plumes, and a large cherry velvet cocarde is set outside the brim so as to fall a little over the hair. Young ladies are now favoring tiny mites of toques, with little or nothing on them. What little trimming there is generally consists of garlands of leafless flowers. These are for evening. The woolly felts and beavers are very pretty, particularly in drab and beaver. A dainty beaver bonnet had the sides flattened and the front raised in two curves. Along the bottom was a plaiting of cornflower ribbon, with two rosettes, which sat in the curves. There were strings of grosgrain and loose bows of the same on the crown, and two swallow's wings, one on each side. This made a very delicate frame for a pretty face.

Many bonnets are, so to speak, built around the knot of hair, according to the way in which it is worn. One in this style had a large alsatian bow set in the back, so that it curved over the knot of back hair. There was then tied a tight little knot with fishtail ends. The bonnet was of shirred velvet and had three curling black plumes, all falling forward. A light gray felt hat was also very novel and handsome. The brim was double, the under part considerably wider than the other and lying in a waved line around. Above was a soft mass of loops of hunter's green ribbon, wide and crushed into rich folds. There was a handsome bronzed aigret of osprey as a finish.

For children there is a quantity of beret, Tam O'Shanter and polo shapes in soft woolly goods. Some are knit, but more are woven into shape. Others are sewed. Persian lamb effects are much liked. For boys the polo cap is back, but with a higher brim. Fur caps for boys are also seen and the Turkish fez. All this does not mean that the hats and bonnets mentioned during the last month or six weeks are not quite in the fashion, for they are, but that new ideas and forms are always being developed. For example, there is the embroidered and fur trimmed hat, with its flaring, flat brim and low, long loops of ribbon intermingled with real lace. I noticed a triangular flat bonnet, with points almost like tabs coming down on the sides. This was covered with dark heliotrope velvet and had maize silk crepon bows and rosettes and an aigret of osprey above all. Some call this style the half handkerchief. These fussy little cabbage rosettes are seen everywhere, even on the children's berets, and made out of such uncompromising things as fur.

I saw a cozy little coat and muff, and also a beret, for a little girl, that is worth copying. The coat was of brown boucle cloth plaited from the yoke and buttoned down the front. It was held in by a belt of the same. There was a collarette of gray Persian fur and a muff of the same. The sleeves had a little border of gray fur, and the beret was of the Persian fur, with three cute little rosettes of the same perched upon the right side.

A very useful and pretty frock for a girl of 12 or 14 is made of blue and red hairline cheviot. There is a narrow trimming around the bottom and belt, also around the zouave jacket, of soutache. The jacket is of the dress material; the underwaist and sleeves are of red and black plaid taffeta cut bias. This costume is of very simple design and easy to reproduce in any seasonable goods. The zouave may be of velvet or black cloth.

I saw recently a novelty in mourning for a young lady who had lost her father. The skirt was cut in the new bell-like shape and fitted closely around the top. It was plain around the bottom. Down each side were four tabs of English crape, each being bound with crape in a narrow rolled binding and ending under a large crape covered button mold. The basque was sprung and slashed across the front and bound with a round cord covered with crape. The lapels and full front and the under sleeves were covered with crape. The new recamier sleeve drapery of the eudora cloth was added in a graceful way, altogether making this an elegant gown not too depressing to those around the wearer.

At the same house they showed two novelties, one being a slashed gown for reception or high tea. It was dark prune grosgrain, slashed to the waist all around the front of the skirt and showing apple green faille panels. The waist was plain, of the heliotrope, and there were a crushed belt and collar and balloon sleeves of the light faille. There were lines of fancy jet at intervals all around the waist and a fringe of the same around the belt. A very full ruff of spangled tulle was set around the neck and fastened on the breast in front under two tiny bows. There was a short heliotrope velvet cape to go with this, lined with apple green faille and having three narrow rows of black marten fur around it, simulating a triple cape.

The other was an elegant visiting cloak and gown, the whole costume, hat and all, going to the same lady. The dress was gray and coral heavy crepon, with a French waist covered with a point de venise collar. The cloak was made of the same crepon, a new departure, lined with coral pink satin and having a very wide black moire ribbon down each side of the front, edged with fancy beading on each side. The ribbon was tied in an enormous bow under the chin, and, plaited, formed a collar in the back. Over the cloak was a deep cardinal collar of point de venise in ecru linen, ending in vandyke points. The hat was of gray felt trimmed with black moire ribbon, lace and rows of jet beads.

THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

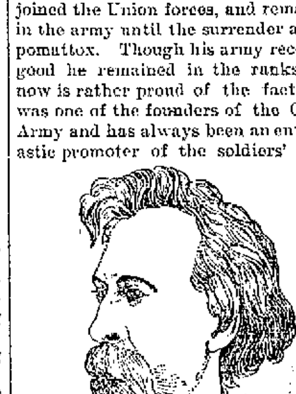

It Is Unparalleled in the World's History.

The British empire is a political creation unparalleled in the world's history, not only by its extent and population, in both of which respects it is slightly surpassed by China, but because, with an area of more than 10,000,000 square miles and 352,000,000 inhabitants, it is scattered over the whole globe. It embraces all zones from the icy wilderness of Hudson bay to the tropical jungles of India and the mahogany forests of Honduras; there is scarcely a product which a British province does not bring forth in excellent quality, and not less various are the degrees of civilization of its inhabitants from the Kaffirs of the Cape to the highly cultivated citizens of Toronto or Sydney. We find with Christians of all confessions 200,000,000 Hindoos, about 70,000,000 Mohammedans and 8,000,000 Buddhists, and the Bible is printed in 130 languages and dialects represented in the empire, yet, notwithstanding such promiscuous elements, the government, with rare exceptions, maintains order and no sign of dissolution is visible.

PRIVATE DALZELL.

Never Rose from the Ranks—A Conspicuous G. A. R. Man.

Few men who attended the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Pittsburg are better known to the public than Private Dalzell of Caldwell, Ohio. His unique and pungent contributions to the press have frequently attracted attention, not the least spicy being that which, not long ago, he issued to the private soldier veterans, protesting against their practical exclusion from the governing counsels of the order. Private Dalzell, whose full name is James D. Dalzell, was born about fifty years ago in Allegheny City, but moved to Ohio when a boy with his family. Shortly after the outbreak of the war he joined the Union forces, and remained in the army until the surrender at Appomattox. Though his army record is good he remained in the ranks, and now is rather proud of the fact. He was one of the founders of the Grand Army and has always been an enthusiastic promoter of the soldiers' reunions. By profession he is a lawyer and has served several terms in the Ohio legislature. His life has been a busy one, and now that he has enough of the world's goods to last him through life he declares his intention of passing his remaining years in quiet.

Women Workers Down South.

Thousands of southern girls who never before attempted to earn a living are every year drawn into the canneries, shirt factories and the like, newly established all over the south. These enterprises have given a tone of hope and life to many a listless southern village and are paving the way for a broader intellectual life for southern girls of no fortune and small social pretensions. Meanwhile the characteristic southern respect for womanhood promises for these working girls a consideration that would astonish Europeans. No such awakening has yet come to colored women.

Warren's Great Farm.

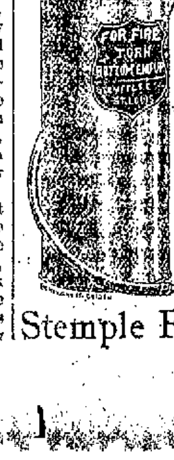

Ex-Senator Warren's ranch in Wyoming covers an area of 75 by 100 miles, and is stocked with 2,000 horses, 15,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep. The extreme length of Rhode Island is 50 miles and her extreme breadth is 35 miles, her entire area being 1,250 square miles. The area of Mr. Warren's ranch is 7,500 square miles, and it is, therefore, just six miles as big as Rhode Island. But let us not make haste to turn the laugh on little Rhody. The Warren ranch lacks but 615 square miles of being as big as Massachusetts; it is bigger than Connecticut and two Rhode Islands put together and nearly four times as big as Delaware.

Portrait of a Lady who has cleaned house all day without Pearline—and she's had a lively time of it. There's another day just like it coming to-morrow—and more afterwards.

Now, see the difference. With Pearline, all this hard work would be easy; through in half the time; nobody disturbed by it. Pearline cleans, without the least harm, everything that water doesn't hurt. You won't have your paint streaked and rubbed off or your marble discolored or your temper ruffled or—well, Pearline banishes more of the ills attending house-cleaning than anything else known—just as good for washing clothes.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 409 JAMES PYLE, New York.

Saved His Life

—by a fortunate discovery in the nick of time Hundreds of persons suffering from consumption have had the progress of the disease stopped, and have been brought back to life and health by the "Golden Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce

Years ago Dr R V Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., recognizing the fact that consumption was essentially a germ disease, and that a remedy which would drive the germs and their poisons from the blood would cure consumption, at last found a medicine which cured 98 per cent of all cases, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease.

The tissues of the lungs being irritated by the germs and poisons in the blood circulating through them, the germs find lodgment there, and the lungs begin to break down. Soon the general health begins to fail, and the person feels languid, weak, faint, drowsy and confused.

This is the time to take Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; it drives the germs and poisons from the blood, and has a soothing effect upon the dry cough In cases of bronchitis the "Discovery" is invaluable.

"Golden Medical Discovery" increases the amount and quality of the blood, thus invigorating and fortifying the system against disease and builds up wholesome flesh and strength after wasting diseases, as fevers pneumonia, grip and other debilitating affections.

JNO. M. HITE, of Audubon, Audubon Co., Ia says "I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs and chest, and I suffered intensely with it I tried several of our best physicians here and they gave up all hopes of my recovery, and thought I would have to die. I would cough and spit blood for hours, and I was pale and weak. I was greatly discouraged when I began the use of the 'Discovery,' but I soon got better It has been five years since I took it and have had no return of that trouble since"

THE ROCK ISLAND WITHDRAWS

What, it is thought, will prove the death blow of the Western Passenger association was administered yesterday by the Rock Island road, which announced its withdrawal from the organization. The withdrawal is to take effect at the earliest date possible and will leave the association with a very slender support. The Rock Island's action is supposed to have been taken with a view to forcing a reorganization of the roads which comprised the old association.

ASHLEY'S REMEDY FOR STRIKES

O. D Ashley, president of the Wabash road, in an article in the Railway Age, says that a fundamental change in the relations between railroad companies and their employes is necessary and that it is the duty of the roads to take the initiative in introducing it The responsibility of preventing strikes and interruptions to traffic rests on the companies, Mr. Ashley says. He advocates a co operative plan of operating railroads, making a distinction between the co-operative and the profit-sharing plans. The latter plan simply inaugurates a distribution of a share of profits, when any are made, but fails to provide for the contingency of adverse business years or to discriminate between meritorious and faithful service and that of an inferior quality. Under the former provision is made for the proper reward of the more intelligent, faithful and skillful of the employes, with the view of stimulating them to a larger development of their talents, and of inducing them to work, not harder, but with an intelligence directed to the end in view and with minds interested in the success of their work.

NO WORK ON THE ISTHMUS

G M. Clark, formerly a division superintendent of the Illinois Central railway, but now connected with a railway in Panama, thus writes concerning the conditions of affairs in that country: "There is no worse place in the world for a man out of work and out of money than the Isthmus of Panama In my position with the road here I see a great deal of the floating population of the isthmus, both in Colon and in Panama and along the line. There are today on the isthmus crowds of well educated, good intentioned machinists, engineers, carpenters, civil engineers, draughtsmen, in fact, of every trade and profession, men who want work, who would like to work, and who are now starving, dying of hunger and of sickness, brought on by exposure to the wet season and neglect. And every boat brings more Most emphatically there is not work for any of them Since the revival of work on the canal the canal company has not hired any except negro laborers, at 60 and 70 cents a day, payable in Colombia silver. This equals 27 or 31 cents American money a day."

REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE ELECTED.

The directors of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad company met yesterday and elected a reorganization committee with power to act. The committee consists of E. B. Cheny, jr., Thos. P. Fowler, W. L Bull, George Anykerson and E J. Derbind The committee will at once set out to make a plan of reorganization, and will continue until the final details are worked out. The officers will hold over.

THE W. & L E WANTS A CHICAGO LINE.

A dispatch from Lima, Ohio, reads as follows· "A prominent business man of Toledo brought the information that the Wheeling and Lake Erie railway management have decidad upon a line to Chicago and he was positive that the directors and stockholders would carry it to completion. He stated that the plan is to build a track between Fremont and Findlay, a distance of thirty-seven miles, which will parallel the Lake Erie and Western route He claims that he has inside information that the Wheeling and Lake Erie has about concluded the purchase of the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western railway, which is completed to Fort Wayne, and has trains running into that city, a distance of seventy five miles. It will then construct a track to Bolivar, Ind., where it will connect with the Chicago and Erie line for Chicago This will make an excellent outlet for its coal traffic. It is believed that work will begin as soon as traffic arrangements are completed with the Chicago and Erie management."

The Remains of the Late Alexander III Laid to Rest.

The Funeral Exercises Continue From 10 A. M. to 1 P. M and are Attended by Representatives of All Nations

ST PETERSBURG, Nov. 20—The entombment of the remains of the late czar Alexander III took place today in the cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. A thick fog enveloped the city, but the populace was astir at the earliest possible hour and at the same time the troops detailed to take part in the funeral ceremonies commenced moving towards the positions assigned to them. The cathedral was packed with distinguished persons, including representatives of all the imperial and royal families of Europe The funeral services were conducted by the metropolitan of St Petersburg and by the metropolitan of Moscow. The former conducted the czarina to her place near the coffin, which reposed in state in the center of the cathedral The czar and the grand dukes and the members of the royal families present took up positions on the right of the coffin and the many military officers in attendance were grouped behind the bier On the left were the foreign ambassadors and ministers and their staffs while grouped around in different parts of the cathedral were countless delegations from Russian cities and elsewhere, including the numerous delegations from France The funeral services began at 10 30 a m and lasted until about 4 o'clock. Over thirty members of the royal families of Europe, attended by glittering suits, were present After the long service the czarina, the czar and others present took a last farewell at the remains of Alexander III The czar then laid the imperial mantle over the body and the coffin was carried by the czar and certain of the princes to its tomb.

THE TEMPLE CUP

A Change in the Conditions Is Needed.

As for the temple cup itself it will bring disastrous results to the game, if the conditions under which the contests take place are not amended It should not be ignored entirely, for the trophy could be made to stimulate interest in baseball For instance, let the contests for the cup be between the second and third clubs in the race, so that the winning of it can not be made by newspapers in the different cities to overshadow in importance the winning of the greatest prize of all—the championship As a reward to the players of the club that will get first place, give them 40 per cent of the receipts of the temple cup series Then give the winner of the series 35 per cent and the loser 25 per cent The club that wins the pennant should not be forced to run the risk of relinquishing part of its glory by playing for the temple cup and striving for two pennants, as it were—for that is practically what the temple cup conditions means—Baltimore Sun.

DR. YOUNGE'S

Medical and Surgical Institute.

Our readers should bear in mind that Dr J. W. Younge is at his office in this city Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, of each week. This affords an excellent opportunity for the citizens of this city and county to consult this eminent specialist close to their homes. He has performed many marvelous and seemingly miraculous cures of prominent people all over this country. Dr Younge stands in the fore most rank of his chosen profession, and is highly esteemed by all of our best citizens He is considered a reliable, trustworthy and honorable physician, well worthy the large and lucrative practice he has had for many years. A number of our best citizens have been cured of long standing chronic diseases, by him, among whom are Wm. E Labby, J W. Lacklin, Samuel G. Kumfer, L W. Noble Martin Noszk, Edward Reardon, P. G Silliman, D P Augustine, Milton Avery, Fred S Bothner, and hundreds of others There is no physician in this state that treats as many cases of chronic and private diseases as does Dr Younge, or that has as good success He has been located in this city nearly twenty years, during which time he has had the largest and most successful practice in the state Dr. Younge has examined and prescribed for two thousand, three hundred and sixty-seven patients since the first day of last January, and has sent medicine to three hundred and forty-six patients residing in seven different states. The fact that today he is more widely recommended by grateful people whom he has cured in every walk of life than any other specialist in the United States, is not astonishing Dr Younge makes people well and that is the secret of his great success. His institute is located at the corner of Calhoun and Lewis streets, opposite Library Hall. Office days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

WORKING WOMEN'S HOME.

F. F. Budd Would Like to See One Established in This City.

To the Editor of THE SENTINEL

While the public mind is awake to the wants of our people, I would like to call attention to a state of things as now existing, and of which I have spoken to parties who are the most interested in the city, (or should be) but they think nothing can be done in the premises. It is of working women of whom I write. The average woman in the shops and factories earns from $4 to $5 per week, many less, and the matter of board and lodging is of vital account to them, as they have to hunt to find a fair place to board at less than $3 50 per week. By a little exertion and some money, by those in position to give it, a home could be established for such, with a dormatory, parlor and kitchen, with single rooms for those who wished them, where these worthy persons could have the comforts of a home at a nominal cost of $2 50 per week This would pay all expenses after a little while, when the home got established, and leave enough of their wages to clothe them A word to the Young Woman's Christian association: "A loaf of bread will fill a coat better than a prayer" F. It is the tendency nowadays to assert that "we are getting very English" in mode of living and in speech, because it is declared to be very bad form to say "ice cream" and speak of "eating a dish of it," instead of including frozen cream and congealed watery concoctions and frigid spirituous gustatory things all in one comprehensive term, "an ice" Nobody eats "a dish of ice cream" Everybody takes "an ice" Of course, whoever speaks of wearing his "dress suit" instead of his "evening dress" is immediately put down as a man not of the smart set.

The following extracts are clipped from the American Florist, Nov. 17th, of Chicago, under the head of St Louis exhibition.

"The cut flower display on the first day was quite good The chrysanthemums, however, did not come up to those staged later in the week. In twenty flowers, white, four sorts, the first (premium) went easily to W. J. and M. S. Vesey whose Wannamaker Queen, Nivens and Mrs. Robt. Craig were the center of attraction."

"The chrysanthemum classes called for on Thursday proved to be the finest specimens and the closest competition ever seen here. Best twenty-five blooms, one white variety called out seven magnificent vases, principally Queen, first was taken by W. J and M S. Vesey with the finest specimens of Queen ever seen here."

"The special premiums scheduled for Friday called out keen competition which was much appreciated by the visitors. The premium offered for the best vase of chrysanthemums was won by W. J. and M S. Vesey."

COUNTY SEAT CONTEST.

A Scramble for the Plunder in Crawford County.

Leavenworth Now Has the Seat, But Other Towns are After It.

SALEM, Ind., Nov. 20.—The Crawford county seat contest, taken here from Harrison county upon change of venue, was called yesterday and the jury impaneled. Both sides answered ready, when the petitioners requested to recall their plea and asked a continuance on the ground that the county clerk had failed to bring the records of the election of 1892 as he had promised. The continuance was granted. The clerk is said to have done this to get even with the English faction for his defeat in the late election. The case was continued at the expense of the petitioners. Leavenworth expected this and expected the case to be dismissed and none of their witnesses were present, while 500 of the English witnesses were here. Appellate Judge Theo. P. Davis presided. Charles L. Jewett was principal attorney for petitioners. Congressman-elect Robert Tracewell was principal for remonstrance.

The present county seat is at Leavenworth, a town of about 1,000 inhabitants on the bank of the Ohio river and in the southeast corner of the county. The present contest is one of a series of county seat contests which has existed since the county was organized. Indiana was admitted into the union in 1816; two years later Crawford county was organized, and the county seat established at Mount Sterling, near where English now stands, almost in the center of the county and really the only village in the county. But about this time settlements were made on the river at Leavenworth and Fredonia. General Thorn, of Fredonia, built a brick house and presented it to the county. It was accepted in 1821. Leavenworth soon outstripped Fredonia in growth, but did not secure the courthouse till 1843, when the town built a courthouse. Since then Marengo, English and Grantsburg have been trying alternately to secure the prize.

Once Grantsburg, an interior town of about 100 inhabitants, secured seventy-five per cent. of the popular vote for the removal, but was defeated when the matter was taken into the courts. English then secured the necessary vote, but the fight became so fierce that the commissioners had to be guarded while they counted the signatures to the remonstrances. Leavenworth appealed to the circuit court. English asked a change of venue to Harrison county and Leavenworth took change of venue to Washington county.

WHIPPED THE WAHEPES.

Germans Enst Africa the Scene of a Battle.

Kuirenga, the Stronghold of the Rebels, Falls and the Germans Rescue 1,500 Women.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—News has been received here of sharp fighting between the Germans and the Wahepe tribe. The governor of German East Africa, Von Sobell, telegraphed from Dares Salaam that on October 30 Kuirenga, the capital of the Wahepe territory, was stormed and captured by the Germans. In the engagement, which lasted several hours, Lieutenant Maas and eight Askaris were killed. The losses of the Wahepe were heavy. A large number of cattle, much ivory and guns and rifles lost by the Schwisky expedition, were recovered. The Germans also captured large supplies of powder and rescued 1,500 women and children who were held as prisoners by the Wahepe tribe.

PROPERTY IS INJURED.

Indianapolis Woman Wants Damages From a Neighboring Saloon Keeper.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 20.—The circuit court was crowded yesterday with representative temperance citizens and saloon keepers when the case of Mrs. Mary Haggard against John Stehlin was called for trial. Mrs. Haggard is the owner of some fine residence property on College avenue. Stehlin bought a lot adjoining her property and erected a building upon it and later opened a saloon. Mrs Haggard brought suit for damages, alleging that the opening of the saloon had caused her property to decrease in value. Stehlin defended the suit and Mrs. Haggard was demurred out of court. She took an appeal and the supreme court overruled the lower court, holding that a saloon might be a detriment to other property, and if so proved damages might be recovered for its maintenance. The question now at issue is the actual injury which Mrs. Haggard's property has sustained and the measure of damages to which she is entitled, and, as the case is the first of the kind ever tried in the state, it is creating a great deal of attention.

A large number of College avenue property owners have been called as witnesses by Mrs. Haggard to prove that the saloon is a detriment to her property and a number of saloon keepers have been called by Stehlin to testify that a saloon does not cause adjoining property to decrease in value. The trial will last several days.

Dr. Price's is known everywhere as "the good luck baking powder of the Nineteenth Century."

Foreclosure Suit.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 20.—Papers in the foreclosure suit begun at St. Paul November 17 by George Gould and Russell Sage, trustees for the bondholders, to foreclose the mortgage on the Denver Pacific Railway and Telegraph company, have been filed in the United States court at Denver in order to facilitate court proceedings that may be found necessary in the future. This road is the portion of the Union Pacific system between Denver and Cheyenne.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Miss Frances E. Willard Again Called to the Highest Place.

Miss Jennie Ackerman, the Round-the-World Missionary, Made a Member of the Association.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 20.—There was a slightly decreased attendance at the convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union today. Immediately after the devotional exercises, Mrs. Campbell, of Wisconsin, gave notice that at the next annual convention she would move to amend article 4 of the constitution by the substitution of the words "vice-president-at-large" after the word "president." After this notice was given Mrs. B. Sturtevant Peel, of California, arose and announced that Miss Jessie Ackerman, round-the-world missionary of the union, was seated with the California delegation, and Mrs. Peel desired that she be given a seat on the platform. Miss Ackerman was by vote made a member of the convention and was escorted to the platform. When the escorting party reached the platform Miss Willard took a valise from Miss Ackerman's hand and said, holding it up for the inspection of the audience:

"This is the bag that traveled 150,000 miles in the last seven years. Those are not the most interesting figures in regard to it. It has contained 20,000 pledges from men and 9,000 membership certificates from women all around the world."

The convention applauded vociferously and Miss Willard rapped vigorously with her gavel, "not for order," she explained, "but for applause." After this little jollification the reports from the Woman's Temperance Publishing association were called for. The first given was that of Miss Margaret Sudduth, managing editor of the Union Signal, the official organ of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, and after she had finished Mrs. Katharine Lente Stevenson reported for "Books and Leaflets." Mrs. Caroline F. Crow next reported, also for the Union Signal.

Hon. Samuel Dickey, of the prohibition party, then spoke briefly and humorously. After Mr. Dickey had concluded Miss Willard said: "A certain custom originated with the first president of this union. It is thought now it is a good custom to drop. The custom has been for the president to don her wraps and sneak down the back stairs and slay out until she is elected. It really looks as though the president was not so sure of re-election. So I am not going out." After this little speech Rev. Anna Shaw, of Pennsylvania, rose and said she hoped Susan B. Anthony was present, as she (Miss Anthony) was always compelled to go out during her election. She had always rebelled and Miss Shaw remarked that "Aunt Susan" would be much pleased at this action on Miss Willard's part.

The election preliminaries were then begun by the appointment of tellers by the chair. Each teller represented different sections of the country. The election proceeded in a very orderly manner. Just before the tellers began to pass about the audience, Miss Alice Harris took a seat at the piano and began to sing, "Blest Be the Tie." Instantly the convention arose and joined in the singing of the hymn.

The first ballot taken was for president and resulted in the unanimous choice of Miss Frances Willard. The president was then presented with two gavels, sent by the Women's Christian Temperance union, of Churchill, N. Y., the wood being taken from the house where Miss Willard was born.

She made a brief address of thanks for the continued confidence reposed in her by the union. Miss Willard then nominated Mrs L. M. N Stevens for vice president at large and she was also unanimously elected to that position.

Then came the election of a recording secretary to fill the place of Mrs Stevens, who had just been elected vice president at large. Of the 390 votes cast Mrs. Katharine Lente Stevenson received 236 and was declared elected. Afterwards her election was made unanimous.

Mrs. Clara Hoffman was unanimously elected assistant recording secretary and she followed with a brief address of thanks for the honor. Next came the election of treasurer and Mrs. Helen M. Barker was promptly re-elected by a rising vote. After a short address by Mrs. Barker the convention took a recess.

Done by the Yaqui Indians in Old Mexico.

YAVE, State of Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 20.—A courier from the town of Soyopa in the Yaqui valley, southwest of here, has arrived, bringing information of daring depredations by a band of Yaqui Indians. The ranch of Pedro Hernandez was visited by a band of the warriors and three women and two children belonging to the Hernandez household were killed in cold blood. Hernandez happened to be in Soyopa at the time of the raid. The Indians, after committing the murders, burned the ranch buildings and drove off several hundred head of cattle to the mountains.

GROWING WEAKER.

Old Age and Consequent Debility Attacks Bismarck.

He Has Braved Life's Tempests for Many Years, But His Race Is Nearly Run.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes an interview this afternoon which one of its correspondents has had with Count Herbert Bismarck in Berlin. Referring to the health of his father, Prince Bismarck, the count said: "You should not forget that my father's age is beyond the allotted time of the Bible. He has weathered many storms, and has had little leisure in life. But his hardest trials have come within the past four years and at a time in life when he should be spared every aggravation or anxiety. Add to this his active, over busy intellect, his deep concern for every important question of the day and more than all his concern for Germany's prosperity, to which he has devoted his life, to say nothing of the deaths of his friends, and I question if any other man has braved life's tempests with better results. But, he is fast getting old. He suffers from no organic disease. He is weakened by time and cannot, even with the greatest precautions, continue much longer. We, of course, are very anxious about him and he is scarcely ever out of sight. Of necessity we are prepared for God's will."

A TRAMP IN ASTOR'S BED.

He Wandered Into the Mansion and Went to Sleep.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—A breathless arrest from the residence of Mrs. William Astor, at Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue, rushed into the West Thirtieth street station just before midnight Saturday night. He asked for an officer to hurry to the Astor mansion at all speed.

A policeman hustled along, wondering what was up. When he reached the house he found the servants all gathered in the hallway, highly excited.

"He's on the fourth floor," they cried, in awed voices.

"What is he—a burglar?" the policeman asked, as he reached for his revolver.

"Oh, he's awful," was the only reply he could get from the women.

The policeman went up to the fourth floor and there, in one of the gorgeous bedrooms, he found a "scraggy bearded man in bed. He was fast asleep.

The fellow was aroused and compelled to dress. He was a typical tramp of the "Weary Waggles" kind. He was locked up. It is not known how he got into the house.

GEORGE SWERINGER.

He Turns Out to be a Murderer of Long Standing.

BUCHANAN, Mich., Nov. 20.—A dispatch received by a deputy sheriff here from North Dakota states that George Sweringer, who is under arrest for committing a deadly assault upon his father-in-law, August Vetter, is also wanted in North Dakota for a murder committed there six years ago. He will probably be surrendered to the Dakota authorities and stand a chance of suffering the death penalty.

BLOW AT BOXING.

Syracuse City Council is Against Pugilism.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 20.—The Syracuse common council aimed a blow at boxing in this city last night. Alderman Hill, at the last meeting, presented a resolution prohibiting any pugilistic exhibitions, or any form of pugilism in this city. The matter was referred to the corporation council. The action is the outcome of the Fitzsimmons Riordon affair Friday night.

BEAR HUGGED HER

So Hard That Three of Her Ribs Were Broken.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 20.—While picking grapes on a country road near here, a big, black bear suddenly appeared and attacked Miss Anna Wormbrough, hugging her so hard it broke three of her ribs and terribly lacerated her body. Her injuries will likely prove fatal.

BLOODY FIGHT.

Mort Gibbons and Jerry Arnold Pound Each Other.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 20.—Mart Gibbons and Jerry Arnold fought a bloody battle of nine rounds in a barn six miles south of the city last night. During the fight Gibbons' arm was broken in dealing his opponent a heavy swinging blow, but he continued the fight and managed to win it.

Miss Stevenson Ill.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—News has been received that Miss Mary Stevenson, eldest daughter of the vice president, is in a critical condition in Asheville, N. C., and that the members of the family have been summoned to her bedside.

BLOODY DEEDS

SKINNED THE COMPANY.

H. M. Howard Defrauds the Fidelity Mutual Life.

Issues a $10,000 Policy to B. F. Pitzel and by Fraudulent Representation of Death Gets the Money.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 20.—Lawyer Albert W. Wishard was instructed by telegraph from Philadelphia today to file suits for the recovery of the money obtained by H. M. Howard, now under arrest at Boston, part of which is on deposit in a bank in this city. The title of the complaint filed is, the Fidelity Mutual Life association against H. M. Howard alias H. M. Holmes alias Herman Mudgett, and Georgiana Howard. The plaintiff alleges that he is engaged in the business of life insurance and that he issued a policy on the life of one B. F. Pitzel for $10,000; that by a mistake on the part of the plaintiff and deceptions and fraudulent representation on the part of the defendant, the said Howard received the sum of $10,000, that afterward the plaintiff discovered that B. F. Pitzel was still alive; that the proofs of the claim were spurious and fraudulent and made for the express purpose of cheating the plaintiff out of the insurance money; that the defendant fled the country, turning over and paying to his co-defendant, Georgiana Howard, a large portion of the $10,000, which the defendant deposited in the bank in this city. Affidavit for a writ of attachment is also filed.

BRIDGE BROKE DOWN

And the Train Went to the Bottom of the Creek.

Five Miners, Who Were Returning From Their Work, Crushed in the Wreck.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 20.—It has been definitely learned that there were five people killed in the wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad at Larimer station, twenty miles east of here, last night. The names are: Geo Rice, August Thone and his son, Fred Thone, and two Italians whose names are not known, as they are known by numbers. At noon the remains of Fred Thone had been taken out. All were miners employed by the Westmoreland coal company.

The train wrecked consisted of six-teen carloads of coal and was just pulling out from the New Larimer mines, and on board were a number of miners. As it was crossing over a trestle near Larimer station the axle on the second car broke down, the balance of the cars piling up in a heap, which resulted in the breaking of the trestle, and the whole mass of cars and human beings went down with a crash into the creek below. The miners on the train at the time were returning from work.

TWO KILLED, FOUR HURT

Fatal Accident on the Streets of Philadelphia.

A Passenger Train Dashes Into a Carriage, Killing or Maiming the Occupants.

PHILADELPHIA, PENN., Nov. 20.—Two persons were instantly killed, one fatally and four seriously injured by a wreck on the Reading railroad at the Washington lane crossing about 11 o'clock this morning. The killed are: John Meehan, aged seventy-six years, of Fulpsper, a suburb of this city.

Patrick Lacey, flagman, aged sixty years, who resides on Washington lane, near the crossing.

Mrs. Meehan, aged sixty-five years, was injured internally and had her skull fractured. She cannot recover.

Mrs. Smith, aged forty years, the fourth occupant of the carriage, was injured internally, but will probably recover.

Just how the accident occured will probably remain a mystery as the flagman, who probably held the key to the situation, is dead. The carriage containing the four occupants was going north on Washington lane and had reached the center of the track before the driver discovered that the train, which leaves this city at 10 o'clock, was almost upon them. The driver struck the horses with the whip which caused them to become frightened and rear. An instant later they were struck by the heavy engine and thrown nearly fifty yards. Meehan and Lacey were dead when they were picked up. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Meehan were taken to the Germantown hospital. One of the horses was almost ground to pieces and the wagon totally demolished.

The Chief Chemist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, as head of the World's Fair Jury, conferred the highest award on Dr. Price's Baking Powder.

SALOONKEEPERS SEEK

A Favor at the Hands of the Indiana Legislature.

Will Ask for an Amendment to the Liquor Law, Allowing Them to Keep Open Until Midnight.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 20.—The Indiana saloonkeepers' organization has begun a vigorous campaign for an amendment to the liquor law which will enable them to keep their places open until midnight instead of 11 o'clock, as at present, and a systematic effort is being made in all counties to secure pledges from the newly elected members of the next legislature to that end. The saloonkeepers say the republicans, out of deference to them, refrained from putting a temperance plank in the state platform, and thus brought to the support of the party a large part of the liquor element which had not voted with it before. They claim that the party is under no obligation to the temperance element, and the saloonkeepers' influence can be permanently secured if the legislature will make the desired amendment. On the other hand, the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance union will ask for a bill requiring that the injurious effects of alcohols shall be taught in the public schools and that there shall be no legislation granting any new privileges to the saloon element.

GOT OFF EASY.

William Hilker Fined $40 and Costs for Simple Assault.

Three Saloonkeepers Accused of Selling Liquor on Sunday and Two of Them Fined.

This morning at the mayor's court the case of William Hilker, charged with a deadly assault upon William Webber, the saloonkeeper, was on trial. Webber, it will be remembered, was hit on the head with an axe handle by Helker, on the evening of election day. The quarrel was over the payment of some drinks and the weapon used by Helker was broken in two. Webber was laid up for several days and not expected to live. Helker was released on bail and Attorney A. H. Bittinger appeared this morning to defend him. The case was called at 9 o'clock and lasted until 12:30. Attorney Bittinger made a splendid defense for his client, covering every point in the case in a most thorough manner. The testimony of witnesses went to show that Webber had first attacked Helker with the axe handle and had followed him up for thirty or forty feet. Here the men clinched and in the struggle Helker got hold of the bludgeon and whacked the saloonkeeper over the head three or four times. After listening to all the evidence Mayor Oakley fined the defendant $10 and costs for simple assault and battery. Helker may consider himself lucky, as the case appeared at first as though it would go very hard with him.

Yesterday was a tough day on two saloonkeepers, charged with violating the Sunday law. A day or so ago Louis Schroeder, a teamster, filed an affidavit charging William Heinze with having sold beer on Sunday, Oct. 7. Upon being examined yesterday afternoon Schroeder testified that he and a man named Dick Rudolph went into Heinze's place and ordered three beers, which they paid for, and after sitting around for awhile, went out. Schroeder claims that the reason he did not file the information sooner was because he was a hard-working man and did not have a chance. The evidence of both men, however, seemed to show pretty conclusively that liquor was sold in the saloon on Sunday and Mayor Oakley thereupon fined William the sum of $10 and costs. Heinze appealed the case and the appeal bond was placed at $100. During the trial the attorneys made an effort to find out just why Schroeder was so tardy in having the saloonkeeper arrested, but the witness was non-committal on this point.

TOM CLARK FINED.

Information was also filed by the prosecutor against Tom Clark, of 28 Columbia street, for selling liquor on Sunday. When Tom learned that there were two witnesses against him, he paid his money and saved both the state and himself further trouble. The price was $19.50.

COSTS REMITTED.

Sunday a policeman saw six men come out of John Condon's saloon, corner of Baker and Calhoun street. The matter was referred to the prosecutor and the men examined. There testimony was of such a nature that it would be difficult to make a case against Condon and so the matter was dropped.

SENT OUT OF TOWN.

Thomas H. Boyd, a deaf mute, was locked up by the police last night for drunkenness. This is the third time he has been in the station house on the same charge, and today the fellow was shipped out of town.

John Kahle, the son of William Kahle, while on his way to school this morning accidently fell on the sidewalk and cut a deep gash in his forehead.

TO VOTE FOR POSTMASTER.

Citizens of Muncie Will Settle the Contest for the Office.

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 20.—The democratic committeemen of Muncie met this afternoon and by a vote of twenty-three to fourteen decided to choose a man to fill Postmaster Ellis' place by election. This is generally conceded as sure defeat for Editor McKillip, of the Herald, who long since had his papers indorsed by Senators Voorhees and Turpie and all ready for Cleveland's signature at the proper time. The other candidates are Edward Tabay, Ephraim Snell, Eugene Kelly and Harry Crossfield. Snell and Tabay lead, with Kelly a good third. McKillip alone objected to the election, which will be held soon.

MANY INJURED.

A Sixty-foot Smokestack Falls Upon a Skylight.

Sending a Shower of Broken Glass Upon the People Below—Two Fatally Hurt.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—A sixty foot steel smokestack was torn from the University club building by the wind today, and crashing onto the skylight of the Handy abstract building, on Washington street, drove a shower of two inch glass into the office below, dangerously injuring two men and cutting and bruising almost everyone of the 125 people in the offices. The dangerously hurt are:

B. P. Handy, president of the Handy abstract company.

C. O. Bostrict, a clerk.

Others who were seriously injured are:

Ex-United States District Attorney Thomas Millchrist.

Taylor H. Snow, a real estate dealer.

G. A. Tallman, clerk.

J. O. Connor, clerk.

M. H. Brown, an attorney.

It was not thought either Handy's or Bostrict's injuries would prove fatal, although both suffered severely from loss of blood.

The accident occurred just before noon, when every desk in the abstract offices was occupied and while a large number of attorneys and clients were transacting business there. The big skylight, covering a large portion of the building, was protected by a strong and heavy steel netting, and that alone prevented the heavy smoke stack from going through the roof. And it done so, large loss of life would have resulted, as twenty five or thirty clerks were bunched close together below where it struck. Ex-United States District Attorney Millchrist narrowly escaped death. A large piece of glass struck him on the shoulder, cutting through his clothes and leaving a long, ugly gash. As it struck he leaped to one side just as a piece of the skylight three feet square, dashed down edgewise on the spot where he had stood. H. H. Handy, the millionaire president of the company, was cut in a dozen places. A large fragment of glass grazed his head, tearing a large wound in the side of his face; both hands and arms were cut and his right shoulder was cut to the bone.

The noise of the crashing glass and the cries of the alarmed clerks caused a small panic in the building, the tenants jamming the corridors and stairway in their rush for the street. Several young women clerks and stenographers fainted and were painfully crushed in the crowd, but no one was dangerously hurt. A score of physicians were called to dress the wounds and carriages and ambulances were called out to carry the injured. It was rumored that a portion of the building had collapsed but examination showed that the building was uninjured aside from the breaking of the skylight. A portion of the falling smokestack struck the roof of the restaurant of William Boyle, creating a panic among the people at luncheon there, but no one was injured.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Terrible Fate of Farmer Mc Makin's Four Fine Horses.

The Bright Light of Yesterday Morning Explained—Destructive Fire Three Miles West of Here.

Early yesterday morning the entire western sky was lighted with a bright red light as though by some large fire. Diligent inquiry upon the part of the reporters failed to locate the blaze and not until late last evening was any thing definite learned. The fire was one of no little consequence, and the loss will reach a good many hundred dollars.

About 2 o'clock the family of Henry U. McMakin, who is a prosperous farmer living three miles out on the Huntington road, were awakened by a bright light and the terrified neighing of four horses in the barn. Rushing to a window, Mr. McMakin was shocked to see his fine barn wrapped in flames. He rushed out and made a herculean effort to save the horses and some of his farm implements, but he was too late, as the fine structure was doomed. The four horses were so frightened that nothing could be done to save them and the poor animals suffered a horrible death.

The building was totally destroyed and besides the horses, forty tons of hay, together with buggies, wagons and valuable farm implements were consumed.

As to the origin of the fire Mr. McMakin is totally ignorant, but thinks tramps might have had something to do with it.

Last evening the farmer came to this city to see about his insurance, but was surprised to find that it had expired and that the loss to his property was complete. Mr. McMakin is well known over the county and his many friends will be sorry to learn of his misfortune.

The loss is estimated to be nearly $3,000.

IT WAS THE CAT.

Last evening a lamp left burning in the second hand store of H. Goldstein, on Calhoun street, was upset by a cat and had not passers by broken the window and extinguished the blaze a serious fire would have probably resulted.

BADLY BURNED.

Mary Thomas, a domestic in the family of James Armstrong, was badly burned last night with hot water. The young woman was washing with the hot water pipe near the boiler, when the pipe burst and the scalding fluid was poured over her face and neck. One of her eyes was badly injured. Dr. A. E. Bulson attended.

"AMERICAN GIRLS."

Hilke Thieme Writes About Them in a Paris Paper.

Mr Hugo Thieme, of this city, who is now in Paris, has the following contribution on "American Girls" in the Paris edition of the New York Herald:

"Would you allow me a few lines in your paper to express an opinion on M. Bourget's 'American Society?'

"M. Bourget has given some few specimens of society girls, which he calls types, but which are far from it. They are occasionally met with, but are not predominant features. Our real society does not exist in Newport nor in New York city only, as he has made the good Parisians believe; nor does it consist in these 'types,' as nearly all French readers imagine now. By portraying a few odd cases of girls, who, according to the language M. Bourget has them use, are simply 'gaying him,' as we say, he leaves the impression upon the Parisino world that all American society is made up of such curiosities, just as they think that every American in Paris is either from New York, Chicago or Texas. M. Bourget was entertained by America's best society; he has not yet penetrated the true, typical home life. He says we have no real home life and homes as the Parisians. That is only too true; but we are very thankful that our home is not like that of the Parisians. We have what the word 'home,' German 'heim' implies, which neither the French language nor the people know. An American's pride is in his home and his cosy home life. M. Bourget is a deep thinker, and his work very suggestive and extremely interesting, but in his one-sided, narrow picture of American society he is not himself. We hope he will resume his notes on society and give us a broader field to look over.

OUR NEW J. P'S.

M. F. Rohen and L. F. Hiser Take Their Offices.

Daniel Ryan Retires After Having Served Twenty-eight Years as a Justice of the Peace.

M. F. Rohen, one of the newly elected justices of the peace, was sworn into office this morning by County Clerk Harry Metzger and at once entered upon his duties, his offices being in the rooms formerly used for democratic headquarters in the Foster block. Justice Rohen is a young man who by legal training is finely equipped for the new position which he takes. He has been the bailiff in the superior court for several years and during that time has been a close student of the law books so that he will be thoroughly familiar with his duties. He will take the dockets of Daniel Ryan, who after twenty-eight years' service as justice of the peace in this city, retires to engage in the practice of law.

Mr. Ryan first became a justice of the peace in 1866, and, with the exception of a few years, has held that office ever since. In the course of his work he has filled fifty-three court dockets, averaging 400 pages each. He has disposed of from 18,000 to 20,000 cases and has turned more than $10,000 in fines into the school fund. He has married some 300 couples, and has, in company with various other 'squires, held 300 inquests on insane persons. Justice Ryan was admitted to the bar in New Lexington, Perry county, Ohio, in 1862, and in the spring of 1864 was admitted to the Allen county bar. With the exception of Judge Morris, Mr. Ryan is the only attorney now practicing who was a member of the bar at that time.

County Clerk Harry Metzger went to Indianapolis yesterday afternoon for the purpose of looking after the matter of the qualifying of the justices of the peace and will return this evening with the commission of J. P. Hiser. It is not known yet whether Mr. Hiser will be inducted into office at once or not, or whether he will be compelled to wait until the expiration of Justice Ryan's term, which continues for a year. By the action of the county commissioners the number of justices in this township was reduced from six to four. At present there are Justices France, Taney, Hayes and Wilkinson. Mr. Rohen has taken the dockets of Justice Ryan, and if Justice Wilkinson should retire Mr. Hiser says then could not take his office until the expiration of the term of Justice Hays, as that would make five justices in the township.

Valentine Linker, of Madison; Theo. H. Ashley, of Aboite; Michael Taney, of Wayne; Alexander McDaniel, of Washington, and C. J. Schlatter, of Cedar Creek, qualified as justices of the peace this morning.

CONGRESS comes on Tuesday this year and it will be here in five weeks from today.

The city authorities ought to commence a vigorous clean up policy and put Fort Wayne in a good sanitary condition for the winter that is now almost upon us.

THERE is going to be a political war in Alabama. Kolb, the defeated candidate for governor, has issued a manifesto calling on his supporters to aid him in seizing the executive office.

THERE is already a well defined movement among the friends of Congressman Taylor, of the First Indiana district, to boom him for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in Indiana.

GUY HOWREN, just elected recorder of Union county, this state, was twenty one years old in April last. His father, Newton Howren, the present incumbent, was prostrated by paralysis some months since, and the son, who had previously acted as deputy, has been in charge of the office to which he has just been elected.

DISASTERS from the use of natural gas as fuel are rapidly increasing in number and severity. They are almost invariably due to bad plumbing. The companies that introduce this subtle and dangerous fuel should be required by ordinance to be responsible for making the proper and safe connections.

EX-CONGRESSMAN HOLMAN says there were just three causes for our late waterloo. They were Cleveland's miserable foreign policy, the hard times and the unpardonable delay of congress in passing a tariff bill. He says the country is bankrupting itself by building enormous war vessels that we have no use for at all. He says the present tariff act will be left undisturbed for many years. The republicans are getting further away every day from extreme protection. He declares that free silver will be the chief issue in 1896. The democratic party dare not do otherwise than declare for the unlimited coinage of the people's money at the present ratio. With that issue only we can win. We need more money in the United States. The amount that is collected for the support of the government is taken from the pockets of all the people and put into the hands of a few thousands. He has come to believe that a service pension offers at least a temporary solution of this difficulty. Certainly every impulse of patriotism urges us to grant a liberal sum—at least $8 to $12 a month—to every soldier and sailor who served the union in the civil war.

The Massacre of Armenia.

If the reports are true of the slaughter of several thousands of Armenians, including helpless women and children, by Ottoman troops, a case for the intervention of the Christian powers in the name of a common humanity would seem to have arisen. The details of wholesale slaughter and violence, which it is claimed have resulted in the total destruction of twenty or thirty villages, are sickening beyond the power of expression, and indicate a reign of violent bigotry that should not be tolerated anywhere within the realm of civilization.

We are aware how delicate a matter it is for governments to interfere in the internal strifes of another, whether the disorder be due to religious bigotry or otherwise, but the wholesale slaughter of innocent and defenseless women and children is a matter that concerns all humanity, and all civilization will be justified in making a protest that must be heeded.

If the Turkish government is either too feeble or too indifferent to prevent outrages of this kind, it is time that it was replaced by a government that can, and will govern. No rash action should be taken based upon insufficient knowledge, but a rigid inquiry into the truth of these reports is certainly demanded, to be followed, if they are found true, by a protest from united Christendom that must be heeded.

Our Commercial Future.

The Paris correspondent of The Engineering and Mining Journal gives the prophecy of a distinguished French economic writer on the commercial future of the United States. The correspondent says:

M. Paul Leroy Beaulieu, the economist, whose reputation is well known to you, has an article in The Debats this week on the agricultural and commercial situation in your country, in which he predicts a great future for you. He believes that your new departure in tariff legislation is one of the most important commercial movements of the present age. With your great resources, with raw materials free of tax or largely so, with the ingenuity of your mechanics and the ingenuity of your constructors and artisans, and with the great capital which you can now command, he believes that the United States will soon be a formidable competitor in foreign markets and must in time become the predominant industrial power. At the same time he believes that your farmers will be led to diversify their products and to improve their methods, which are now certainly not of the best. One thing you must do, and that is to enlarge your merchant marine. It is an old and a sound saying that "no nation ever was or ever can be commercially great which does not carry its own goods in its own bottoms." That M. Leroy-Beaulieu's predictions as to your coming prosperity will be fulfilled I believe and hope.

Something will have to be done with Indian Territory and that right soon. It is coming to be the rendezvous for all the offscouring of the earth. Desperadoes nest in it and issue forth in the nighttime to rob and murder. The Indians under whom the territory is supposed to be take no measures to preserve law and order. Indian Territory is the haunt of outlaws from all sections of the Union. It is a menace and a terror to the whole United States. There are no law and no military or police force to catch the villains who hold up trains at their convenience, riddle them with bullets and carry off the money from passengers and express cars. No wonder the express company whose chief route is through this dark and bloody ground refuses to carry any more valuables over the demon haunted road. That such a spot should exist in the United States is a blot on our nation. The situation is almost serious enough to call for an extra session of congress.

PROSTRATED!

A Most Dreaded and Awful Danger.

What Makes So Many People Drop Dead in the Street?

Why are Homes Filled With the Weak and Nervous?

Weak Nerves, Weak Heart and Exhausted Brain!

These Are the Causes and They Must be Overcome.

It is weakness, a sin, a crime to neglect your health. Death has terrors for everyone, but people do not seem to think much about it until they are about to break down. Then anguish fills the soul. Then despair replaces ambition, and weakness and exhaustion take the place of strength.

Have you palpitation, fluttering, and feeling of weakness and uneasiness around the heart, dizziness, faintness and shortness of breath? Then look to your heart! It is dangerously weak! Sometimes there is pain around the heart. With these symptoms there is generally loss of appetite, gas, weakness, anxiety, forebodings, despondency and extreme nervousness. Such a condition is equal to a deadly serpent coiled about you, whose venomous fangs are about to sink into your flesh and draw your life's blood. Read the remarkable experience of Joseph Booth, Esq., the widely known superintendent of Torry's Razor Manufactory, Worcester, Mass.

"Some time ago," he says, "I was taken with a terrible dizziness and palpitation of the heart, which so weakened me I could not stand. A terrible burning sensation would be felt over the heart, and at the same time it would palpitate in a dangerous manner.

"I had an all-gone feeling, was terribly weak and despondent, and a horrible foreboding was continually over me. My food distressed me terribly and I had severe pains. I was so weak and sick I thought I should die. I was also troubled greatly with gas.

"After trying several remedies for my sufferings without success, I was convinced that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy was the only medicine that would cure me. I saw that many had been cured of the same complaint by it. I commenced using it, and the result justifies my confidence.

"My troubles have all left me after using this great remedy. My heart disease is cured and I can eat anything without distress. Dizziness no longer troubles me and I am cheerful and bright, with no fits of despondency. In fact I am a new man. I advise everyone to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is a wonderful medicine."

Everybody is unanimous in proclaiming this great remedy, the most wonderful in the world. Why don't you try it? That weak organ will soon give out. Do you want it to? Then take the one sure cure for it, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York city. He has the largest practice in the world and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene's is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

A WAYWARD BOY.

Dying in a Hospital at Dallas, Texas.

The Lad Runs Away From a School in France and is Missing for Three Months.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Edward Webster, the young man who, while attending school in France, led the police of Paris a chase by disappearing from the train between St. Lazare station, in Paris, and Colombes, last January, is the hero of another misadventure. He now lies ill in the Portland hospital, of Dallas, Texas, and his mother, Mrs. Theodore Conkling, has gone post haste to his bedside from her home in the Hotel Marlborough. At the time of his French affair the police sought for him for three months, and then decided that a body found in the Seine was that of the young American boy. His mother partly identified the boy. About two months later the boy was found alive. He had become dissatisfied at the school where he was studying. His mother then brought him back to America and he was sent on a visit to Texas as the guest of Colonel Hughes, on a ranch at Childress. The boy, according to his parents, (his mother has married a second time) is worth nearly a half million dollars, the value of the estate left by his father, "Jack" Webster, who was a member of the produce exchange at the time of death. Although only eighteen years old, young Webster weighs 180 pounds and is six feet, two inches in height.

the rest was a sort of [illegible] satin, which is very beautiful. The color was a hazy pink. There were bands of white guipure around the [illegible] sleeves. The rest of such a gown must have run into the thousands, and in our steam heated homes must be decidedly uncomfortably warm. But think of the beauty and never mind the comfort.

Some of our most fashionable dressers rather delight in having a plain and quiet though good material for the outside of a garment and have that lined with a magnificent brocade or with some costly fur. I remember seeing the delighted face of one lady who found just what she wanted in a rough cheviot long coat, with nothing to show on the outside but an enormous sapphire collar of black bear of the splendor within. The whole coat was lined with chinchilla, which is one of the dearest of furs. I think I can see the superb air of disdainful triumph as she will lay aside that coat, pretending to think for more of the simple outside than of the velvety fur lining and watching out of the corner of her eyes for the swift, comprehensive glance of her dearest friends. That is triumph unmixed, and therefore greater than the taking of a city. Such a triumph leaves no dead, but it does leave its vanquished.

The dress materials of shaggy surface appear to be in great favor just now, and yet we find velour du nord, velutina, heavy woolen crepons and shot crepons, showing two colors or two shades of the same color, are very much in demand for handsome street gowns. There is another very pretty fabric called zibeline, which has a surface like former satin and a woolly back like thick canton flannel. This will be used largely for children's cloaks, and also for tea gowns and comfortable house dresses. The English serge for winter has as woolly a surface as it is possible to get, and for hard wear serge is the best fabric ever devised. Cheviot are now on view with rich and warm colors showing in the twills, and these are very handsome. The black cheviots are in great demand, both for dresses, two piece suits and for long cloak coats and Prince Albert suits.

Many of the coats, jackets and wraps are lined with moire. Some of the most dressy have white moire, but such can be worn but a short time, therefore they are rarely used except on such garments as are to be taken off or thrown open at teas, theater or for visiting. Light colored silks and satins are used to line all sorts of outdoor garments, and frequently we see furs with a lining of costly brocaded satin. I remember seeing one golf cape lined with rainbow plush.

For home and grand toilets jet is so lavishly used that sometimes a gown will weigh 30 pounds, a dreadful weight to carry around. Yet there is something in the knowledge that your heavy gown is also a magnificent one that helps very much to bear its weight.

The stock and belt buckles of gold filigree, enamel and paste jewels are all the rage. No lady feels that her wardrobe is quite complete without one or more. These buckles hold the crushed stock collar with its puckered ends standing up like fins on each side of the chin. Some are heart shaped, some like two crescents crossed, others like linked rings, and some and perhaps the most effective are just simply oblong golden slides. The belt buckle can be put to so many uses. It can today hold the feathers on a felt hat, tonight drape up the fluff of tulle and lace on a dancing frock, tomorrow adorn the neck of the wearer or hold a knot of ribbons on her cloak. A handsome gold buckle is really a useful adjunct, and if the fashion has not died out before the holidays it will make a suitable present for all your lady friends and one well appreciated.

Some wise old philosopher in Bible days remarked that of making books there is no end. We might transpose that a little by saying that of making hats there is no end. Just as the fashion writer heaves a sigh of satisfaction and says, "There, I have written everything there is to say about the new hats," lo, she sees a new lot, all different, and each the leader of another branch of the family of headgear, so that she finds her work all to do over again.

SOME MOURNING GOWNS THAT AND DRESS FOR GIRLS.

Just now the "flat" shape is the leading one. Some of the flats are left au naturel, but the most of them have the brims bent up or down or waved or fluted. The form is varied so as to suit all faces, but in all these the crown is low, but well defined and the trimming is generally laid low. One real brown felt had a gathered [illegible] and two or three crushed loops of wide [illegible] ribbon. This style is intended especially for growing girls, but is also worn by young brides for coats.

Another striking hat is of black beaver, with a sharply outlined crown about four inches high. The brim is partly round, but turned up on both sides. There is no trimming around the crown. On the left side are two [illegible] black plumes, and a long [illegible] [illegible] outside the [illegible] a little over the hair. Young [illegible] are now favoring [illegible] with little or nothing on them. What little trimming there is generally consists of garlands of [illegible] flowers. These are for evening [illegible] [illegible] and the best was of the Persian fur, with three cute little rosettes of the same perched upon the right side.

A very tasteful and pretty frock for a girl of 12 or 14 is made of blue and red hair line cheviot. There is a narrow trimming around the bottom and belt, also around the zouave jacket, of soutache. The jacket is of the dress material; the underwaist and sleeves are of red and black plaid taffeta cut bias. This costume is of very simple design and easy to reproduce in any seasonable goods. The zouave may be of velvet or black cloth.

I saw recently a novelty in mourning for a young lady who had lost her father. The skirt was cut in the new bell like shape and fitted closely around the top. It was plain around the bottom. Down each side were four tabs of English crape, each being bound with crape in a narrow rolled binding and ending under a large crape covered button mold. The basque was sprung and slashed across the front and bound with a round cord covered with crape. The lapels and full front and the under sleeves were covered with crape. The new cavalier sleeve drapery of the eudora cloth was added in a graceful way, altogether making this an elegant gown not too depressing to those around the wearer.

At the same house they showed two novelties, one being a slashed gown for reception or high tea. It was dark prune grosgrain, slashed to the waist all around the front of the skirt and showing maple green faille panels. The waist was plain, of the heliotrope, and there were a crushed belt and collar and balloon sleeves of the light faille. There were lines of fancy jet at intervals all around the waist and a fringe of the same around the belt. A very full ruff of spangled tulle was set around the neck and fastened on the breast in front under two tiny bows. There was a short heliotrope velvet cape to go with this, lined with apple green faille and having three narrow rows of black marten fur around it, simulating a triple cape.

The other was an elegant visiting cloak and gown, the whole costume, hat and all, going to the same lady. The dress was gray and coral heavy crepon, with a French waist covered with a point de venise collar. The cloak was made of the same crepon, a new departure, lined with coral pink satin and having a very wide black moire ribbon down each side of the front, edged with fancy beading on each side. The ribbon was tied in an enormous bow under the chin, and, plaited, formed a collar in the back. Over the cloak was a deep cardinal collar of point de venise in ecru linen, ending in vandyke points. The hat was of gray felt trimmed with black moire ribbon, lace and rows of jet beads.

THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

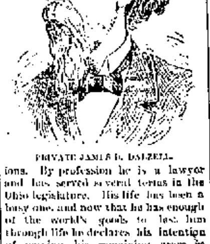

It Is Unparalleled In the World's History.

The British empire is a political creation unparalleled in the world's history, not only by its extent and population, in both of which respects it is [illegible] by China, but because, with an area of more than 10,000,000 square miles and 337,000,000 inhabitants, it is scattered over the whole globe. It embraces all zones from the icy wilderness of Hudson bay to the tropical jungles of India and the mahogany forests of Honduras. There is scarcely a product which a British province does not bring forth in excellent quality, and not less various are the degrees of civilization of its inhabitants from the Kaffirs of the Cape to the highly cultivated citizens of Toronto or Sydney. We find with Christians of all confessions 200,000,000 Hindoos, about 70,000,000 Mohammedans and 8,000,000 Buddhists, and the Bible is printed in 130 languages and dialects represented in the empire, yet, notwithstanding such promiscuous elements, the government, with rare exceptions, maintains order and no sign of dissolution is visible.

PRIVATE DALZELL.

Never Rose from the Ranks—A Conspicuous G. A. R. Man.

Few men who attended the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Pittsburg are better known to the public than Private Dalzell of Caldwell, Ohio. His unique and pungent contributions to the press have frequently attracted attention, not the least spicy being that which, not long ago, he issued to the private soldier veterans, protesting against their practical exclusion from the governing counsels of the order. Private Dalzell, whose full name is James D. Dalzell, was born about fifty years ago in Allegheny City, but moved to Ohio when a boy with his family. Shortly after the outbreak of the war he joined the Union forces, and remained in the army until the surrender at Appomattox. Though his army record is good he remained in the ranks, and now is rather proud of the fact. He was one of the founders of the Grand Army and has always been an enthusiastic promoter of the soldiers' reunions.

PRIVATE JAMES D. DALZELL.

By profession he is a lawyer and has served several terms in the Ohio legislature. His life has been a busy one, and now that he has enough of the world's goods to last him through life he declares his intention of passing his remaining years in quiet.

Women Workers Down South.

Thousands of southern girls who never before attempted to earn a living are every year drawn into the canneries, shirt factories and the like, newly established all over the south. These enterprises have given a tone of hope and life to many a listless southern village and are paving the way for a broader intellectual life for southern girls of no fortune and small social pretensions. Meanwhile the characteristic southern respect for womanhood promises for these working girls a consideration that would astonish Europeans. No such awakening has yet come to colored women.

Warren's Great Farm.

Ex-Senator Warren's ranch in Wyoming covers an area of 75 by 100 miles, and is stocked with 2,000 horses, 15,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep. The extreme length of Rhode Island is 50 miles and her extreme breadth is 35 miles, her entire area being 1,250 square miles. The area of Mr. Warren's ranch is 7,500 square miles, and it is, therefore, just six miles as big as Rhode Island. But let us not make haste to turn the laugh on little Rhody. The Warren ranch lacks but 615 square miles of being as big as Massachusetts; it is bigger than Connecticut and two Rhode Islands put together and nearly four times as big as Delaware.

Better Every Year.

Time was when the "glorious climate of California" did not attract tourists. But year after year the tide of travel sets in stronger and stronger every fall and winter toward this favored region. There is no climate like it on this continent for a winter resort, and the usual fine service on the Union Pacific system has this season been brought to a degree of perfection which leaves nothing to be desired.

Saved His Life

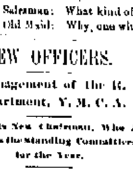

—By a fortunate discovery in the nick of time. Hundreds of persons suffering from consumption have had the progress of the disease stopped, and have been brought back to life and health by the "Golden Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce.

Years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., recognizing the fact that consumption was essentially a germ disease, and that a remedy which would drive the germs and their poisons from the blood would cure consumption, at last found a medicine which cured 98 per cent. of all cases, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease.

The tissues of the lungs being irritated by the germs and poisons in the blood circulating through them, the germs and lodgment there, and the lungs begin to break down. Soon the general health begins to fail, and the person feels languid, weak, faint, drowsy and confused.

This is the time to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; it drives the germs and poisons from the blood, and has a soothing effect upon the dry cough. In cases of bronchitis the "Discovery" is invaluable.

"Golden Medical Discovery" increases the amount and quality of the blood, thus invigorating and fortifying the system against disease and builds up wholesome flesh and strength after wasting diseases, as fevers pneumonia, grip and other debilitating affections.

J. N. Hite, Esq.

Jno. M. Hite, of Audubon, Audubon Co., Ia., says: "I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs and chest, and I suffered intensely with it. I tried several of our best physicians here and they gave up all hopes of my recovery, and thought I would have to die. I would cough and spit blood for hours, and I was pale and weak. I was greatly discouraged when I began the use of the 'Discovery,' but I soon got better. It has been five years since I took it and have had no return of that trouble since."

Reception—Charles Yagerlehner, chairman; B. F. Saunders, Chas. J. Fry, A. D. Craig, Chas. F. Thompson.

The board then adjourned to the Commercial Travelers' restaurant, No. 203 Calhoun street, where the proprietor, Mr. H. F. Richards, jr., had in readiness a handsome "spread," which rapidly disappeared before the enthusiastic association committee men.

THE ROCK ISLAND WITHDRAWS

What, it is thought, will prove the death blow of the Western Passenger association was administered yesterday by the Rock Island road, which announced its withdrawal from the organization. The withdrawal is to take effect at the earliest date possible and will leave the association with a very slender support. The Rock Island's action is supposed to have been taken with a view to forcing a reorganization of the roads which comprised the old association.

ASHLEY'S REMEDY FOR STRIKES

O. D. Ashley, president of the Wabash road, in an article in the Railway Age, says that a fundamental change in the relations between railroad companies and their employes is necessary and that it is the duty of the roads to take the initiative in introducing it. The responsibility of preventing strikes and interruptions to traffic rests on the companies, Mr. Ashley says. He advocates a co-operative plan of operating railroads, making a distinction between the co-operative and the profit-sharing plans. The latter plan simply inaugurates a distribution of a share of profits, when any are made, but fails to provide for the contingency of adverse business years or to discriminate between meritorious and faithful service and that of an inferior quality. Under the former provision is made for the proper reward of the more intelligent, faithful and skillful of the employes, with the view of stimulating them to a larger development of their talents, and of inducing them to work, not harder, but with an intelligence directed to the end in view and with minds interested in the success of their work.

NO WORK ON THE ISTHMUS.

G. M. Clark, formerly a division superintendent of the Illinois Central railway, but now connected with a railway in Panama, thus writes concerning the conditions of affairs in that country: "There is no worse place in the world for a man out of work and out of money than the Isthmus of Panama. In my position with the road here I see a great deal of the floating population of the isthmus, both in Colon and in Panama and along the line. There are to-day on the isthmus crowds of well educated, good intentioned machinists, engineers, carpenters, civil engineers, draughtsmen, in fact, of every trade and profession, men who want work, who would like to work, and who are now starving, dying of hunger and of sickness, brought on by exposure to the wet season and neglect. And every boat brings more. Most emphatically there is not work for any of them. Since the revival of work on the canal the canal company has not hired any except negro laborers, at 60 and 70 cents a day, payable in Colombia silver. This equals 27 or 31 cents American money a day."

REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE ELECTED.

The directors of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad company met yesterday and elected a reorganization committee with power to act. The committee consists of E. B. Cheny, jr., Thos. P. Fowler, W. L. Bull, George Anykerson and E. J. Derbind. The committee will at once set out to make a plan of reorganization, and will continue until the final details are worked out. The officers will hold over.

THE W. & L. E. WANTS A CHICAGO LINE.

A dispatch from Lima, Ohio, reads as follows: "A prominent business man of Toledo brought the information that the Wheeling and Lake Erie railway management have decided upon a line to Chicago and he was positive that the directors and stockholders would carry it to completion. He stated that the plan is to build a track between Fremont and Findlay, a distance of thirty-seven miles, which will parallel the Lake Erie and Western route. He claims that he has inside information that the Wheeling and Lake Erie has about concluded the purchase of the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western railway, which is completed to Fort Wayne, and has trains running into that city, a distance of seventy five miles. It will then construct a track to Bolivar, Ind., where it will connect with the Chicago and Erie line for Chicago. This will make an excellent outlet for its coal traffic. It is believed that work will begin as soon as traffic arrangements are completed with the Chicago and Erie management."

RUBINSTEIN DEAD.

The Great Russian Pianist and Composer.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 20—Anton Gregor Rubinstein, the celebrated Russian pianist and composer, died today of heart disease at Peterhof, near this city. Rubinstein was born at Welchwotenetz on the frontier of Roumania, November 30, 1830. As a child he was taken to Moscow and studied piano music under Alexais Villoign. His first appearance in public was made when he was only eight years of age. Having completed his course of instruction, Rubinstein devoted himself for some time to teaching in Berlin and later, to teaching in Vienna. He returned to Russia later on and was appointed pianist to the Grand Duchess Helena. Subsequently he became director of the musical concerts of the Russian Musical society. Rubinstein visited the United States in 1872-73. Since 1867 Rubinstein has held no office, spending his time in travelling and in composing. In 1869 Alexander II ennobled the composer and in 1877 France decorated him with the cross of the legion of honor.

A social and entertainment will be given at the Trinity English Lutheran church Thursday evening of this week by the ladies of the church.

ENTOMBED.

The Remains of the Late Alexander III Laid to Rest.

The Funeral Exercises Continue From 10 A. M. to 1 P. M. and are Attended by Representatives of All Nations.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 20—The entombment of the remains of the late czar Alexander III took place today in the cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. A thick fog enveloped the city, but the populace was astir at the earliest possible hour and at the same time the troops detailed to take part in the funeral ceremonies commenced moving towards the positions assigned to them. The cathedral was packed with distinguished persons, including representatives of all the imperial and royal families of Europe. The funeral services were conducted by the metropolitan of St. Petersburg and by the metropolitan of Moscow. The former conducted the czarina to her place near the coffin, which reposed in state in the center of the cathedral. The czar and the grand dukes and the members of the royal families present took up positions on the right of the coffin and the many military officers in attendance were grouped behind the bier. On the left were the foreign ambassadors and ministers and their staffs while grouped around in different parts of the cathedral were countless delegations from Russian cities and elsewhere, including the numerous delegations from France. The funeral services began at 10.30 a. m. and lasted until about 4 o'clock. Over thirty members of the royal families of Europe, attended by glittering suites, were present. After the long service the czarina, the czar and others present took a last farewell at the remains of Alexander III. The czar then laid the imperial mantle over the body and the coffin was carried by the czar and certain of the princes to its tomb.

THE TEMPLE CUP.

A Change in the Conditions Is Needed.

As for the temple cup itself it will bring disastrous results to the game, if the conditions under which the contests take place are not amended. It should not be ignored entirely, for the trophy could be made to stimulate interest in baseball. For instance, let the contests for the cup be between the second and third clubs in the race, so that the winning of it can not be made by newspapers in the different cities to overshadow in importance the winning of the greatest prize of all—the championship. As a reward to the players of the club that will get first place, give them 40 per cent of the receipts of the temple cup series. Then give the winner of the series 35 per cent and the loser 25 per cent. The club that wins the pennant should not be forced to run the risk of relinquishing part of its glory by playing for the temple cup and striving for two pennants, as it were—for that is practically what the temple cup conditions means.—Baltimore Sun.

Medical and Surgical Institute.

Our readers should bear in mind that Dr. J. W. Younge is at his office in this city Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, of each week. This affords an excellent opportunity for the citizens of this city and county to consult this eminent specialist close to their homes. He has performed many marvelous and seemingly miraculous cures of prominent people all over this country. Dr. Younge stands in the foremost rank of his chosen profession, and is highly esteemed by all of our best citizens. He is considered a reliable, trustworthy and honorable physician, well worthy the large and lucrative practice he has had for many years. A number of our best citizens have been cured of long standing chronic diseases, by him, among whom are Wm. E. Labby, J. W. Lacklin, Samuel G. Kumler, L. W. Noble, Martin Noack, Edward Reardon, P. G. Silliman, D. P. Augustine, Milton Avery, Fred S. Bothner, and hundreds of others. There is no physician in this state that treats as many cases of chronic and private diseases as does Dr. Younge, or that has as good success. He has been located in this city nearly twenty years, during which time he has had the largest and most successful practice in the state. Dr. Younge has examined and prescribed for two thousand, three hundred and sixty-seven patients since the first day of last January, and has sent medicine to three hundred and forty-six patients residing in seven different states. The fact that today he is more widely recommended by grateful people whom he has cured in every walk of life than any other specialist in the United States, is not astonishing. Dr. Younge makes people well and that is the secret of his great success. His institute is located at the corner of Calhoun and Lewis streets, opposite Library Hall. Office days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

WORKING WOMEN'S HOME.

F. F. Budd Would Like to See One Established in This City.

To the Editor of THE SENTINEL:

While the public mind is awake to the wants of our people, I would like to call attention to a state of things as now existing, and of which I have spoken to parties who are the most interested in the city, (or should be) but they think nothing can be done in the premises. It is of working women of whom I write. The average woman in the shops and factories earns from $4 to $5 per week, many less, and the matter of board and lodging is of vital account to them, as they have to hunt to find a fair place to board at less than $3.50 per week. By a little exertion and some money, by those in position to give it, a home could be established for such, with a dormitory, parlor and kitchen, with single rooms for those who wished them, where these worthy persons could have the comforts of a home at a nominal cost of $2.50 per week. This would pay all expenses after a little while, when the home got established, and leave enough of their wages to clothe them. A word to the Young Women's Christian association: "A loaf of bread will fill a coat better than a prayer." F. F. BUDD.

It is the tendency nowadays to assert that "we are getting very English" in mode of living and in speech, because it is declared to be very bad form to say "ice cream" and speak of "eating a dish of it," instead of including frozen cream and congealed watery concoctions and frigid spirituous gustatory things all in one comprehensive term, "an ice." Nobody eats "a dish of ice cream." Everybody takes "an ice." Of course, whoever speaks of wearing his "dress suit" instead of his "evening dress" is immediately put down as a man not of the smart set.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

A Large Meeting Disappointed by One of the Grand Officers.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of Phoenix lodge of Knights of Pythias last night, quite a number of knights from New Haven being present. It was expected that W. L. Heiskell, the grand instructor and past grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, would be present to give the members instructions in the unwritten work of the order, but shortly before the lodge convened D. J. Shaw, the keeper of records and seals, received a telegram from Major Heiskell saying that he had missed making railroad connections at Peru and could not be present. Some future date will be arranged for the giving of instructions. At the meeting last night Samuel W. Everett and William A. Payer were initiated into the rank of knight. The election of officers of this lodge will be held on the evening of December 24.

Fort Wayne Abroad.

The following extracts are clipped from the American Florist, Nov. 17th, of Chicago, under the head of St. Louis exhibition.

"The cut flower display on the first day was quite good. The chrysanthemums, however, did not come up to those staged later in the week. In twenty flowers, white, four sorts, the first (premium) went easily to W. J. and M. S. Vesey whose Wannamaker Queen, Nivens and Mrs. Robt. Craig were the center of attraction."

"The chrysanthemum classes called for on Thursday proved to be the finest specimens and the closest competition ever seen here. Best twenty-five blooms, one white variety called out seven magnificent vases, principally Queen, first was taken by W. J. and M. S. Vesey with the finest specimens of Queen ever seen here."

"The special premiums scheduled for Friday called out keen competition which was much appreciated by the visitors. The premium offered for the best vase of chrysanthemums was won by W. J. and M. S. Vesey."
